VERSIONS OF RAIDS IN CONFLICT

Europe's War of Aerial Blow and Counter-Blow Sharpens As High Tides and Reports of Enemy Troop Concentrations Keep England On Alert Against Threat of Blitzkrieg; Friction With Japan Over Arrests Continues

FOURTEEN PLANES ARE SHOT DOWN IN AFRICA

Spectacular aerial maneuvers possibly the preliminary of important new phases of the European war were reported today by both Britain and Italy.

Charging in within range of German anti-aircraft batteries on the continental coast of the English channel, the British Air Ministry said, a squadron of nine Spitfires caught a patrol of German Messerschmitts on their home grounds and shot down two. A third was reported down on the English side of the channel.

With Britain on the alert against the threat of a Nazi blitzkrieg because of opportune tides and weather, this challenge may mean either that the British are trying to nip German plans in the bud or are taking the offensive to prevent Germany from organizing.

Italian reports of having blasted important new British air bases in East Africa intimated a highly-organized, intensive campaign to wrest at least air control over the dark continent from the British.

However, sharply contradictory versions of the new aerial blows and counter-blows concealed their effectiveness. Both the Axis powers and the British claimed to have scored heavily without having been hit hard.

New fuel was heaped on the diplomatic fire started by the series of British and Japanese arrests of each other's nationals.

A Japanese embassy spokesman in London declared the embassy was dissatisfied with Britain's explanation of the arrest of two Japanese business men in London. Britain intends to deport two others arrested in London before the Japanese seized 15 Britons, nine of whom now have been released.

Another step toward stabilizing southeastern Europe—again at Rumania's expense—was foreshadowed in Sofia.

Sources close to the Bulgarian government said Bulgaria and Rumania had settled preliminary terms of an agreement was expected to be signed Saturday in which Rumania would be expected to sign.

TWELVE ACCIDENTAL DEATHS RECORDED

An accidental discharge of a small calibre rifle cost the life of 11-year-old John C. Snavely, Jr., of Harrisburg, as another wave of weekend deaths swept over Pennsylvania.

Authorities said the rifle was in the hands of a companion and he shot struck young Snavely in the back.

Automobiles and drownings accounted for the majority of the deaths which reached at least 12 during the two-day period.

Reported Headed For NLRB Post

Marshall E. Dimock, above, former Second Assistant Secretary of Labor, may bring his talents as an administrator to the National Labor Relations Board. It is reported he will succeed J. Warren Madden, whose five-year term expires August 27.

'SHOW ME' STATE BRINGS TO CLOSE A HOT CAMPAIGN

Missourians Will Nominate Candidates From United States Senator and Governor to Committeemen Tomorrow in First Election Since Explosion

LIVELY FREE-FOR-ALL

St. Louis, Aug. 5.—(P)—Missourians will nominate candidates from United States senator and governor to committeemen tomorrow in the first state election since the explosion of the powerful Pendergast machine which for years virtually "ruled" the winners.

It was the liveliest free-for-all scramble in a decade and what the "Show Me" state would do attracted considerable outside attention.

Interest centered mainly in the Democratic contests for United States senator and governor and in the Republican contest for United States senator. Observers predicted a close finish in each of these races, despite claims of lopsided victories by the participants.

The cry of "Pendergastism" was raised high and loud in the Democratic senatorial contest, a three-cornered race between Gov. Lloyd C. Stark and former U. S. Senator Maurice Milligan, who fought each other against a common enemy, incumbent Harry S. Truman, elected with Pendergast support.

Stark and Milligan each claiming credit for smashing "Boss" Tom Pendergast and his Kansas City organization, made vigorous campaigns on the "machine" issue, while Truman largely ignored attacks and kept his campaign on the impersonal level of national affairs.

United States Senator Bennett Champ Clark, boyhood chum of Gov. Stark, returned from Washington during the closing days of the campaign to aid in the fight of the governor, with whom he split.

Clark gave no outright endorsement to either Truman or Milligan. He said his prime interest was to see Stark beaten.

Topeka, Kans., Aug. 5.—(P)—Kansas selects nominees for state officers tomorrow.

attorneys general and other state officials here for the conference. The meeting is designed to promote closer cooperation in guarding against spies, saboteurs and fifth column activities.

Jackson said in a welcoming address that many persons thought of "fifth column" activities as sabotage but that "a greater menace for us is the effort being made here now to try to 'soften' this country as France was 'softened'."

Westcott naming Dr. Gerhard Westrick, commercial counselor of the German embassy, Jackson said that "a few days ago there was published in the press a story disclosing in detail the activities and associations of a foreign representative."

CAMPAIGN BEGINS TO WARM UP

Three Months Before November Election, Democrats and Republicans Are Just Completing Their Organizations For One of the Shortest Presidential Contests in Recent History; Not to be Lacking in Intensity

CLASH OCCURS OVER HATCH ACT LIMITS

Washington, Aug. 5.—Three months before the November election, Democrats and Republicans are just completing their organizations for one of the shortest presidential campaigns in recent American history.

Both parties are planning to crowd into 10 or 11 weeks the oratory and doorbell ringing to which they previously devoted upwards of four months. Early indications, however, are that the contest will not be lacking in intensity although its length is curtailed.

Even as the Republicans finished the framework of their campaign setup this week-end, their general counsel, Henry P. Fletcher, and Attorney General Jackson clashed over an interpretation of Hatch act limits to political contributions.

Fletcher made public an opinion contending that the act's $5,000 maximum on personal campaign gifts covered only contributions to a party's national committee or its senatorial or congressional committees.

The Hatch act prohibits a national political organization from spending more than $3,000,000. Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican presidential nominee, said that "the Republican organization, the Willkie clubs and the independent Democrats who are supporting me will spend about $2,500,000."

Willkie was in Des Moines for a conference with midwest farm leaders, but he is holding back for campaigning until after his acceptance address August 17 at Elwood, Ind.

President Roosevelt, seeking an unprecedented third term, has indicated that defense and foreign problems would keep him close to Washington much of the time. Inspection trips to various defense projects, however, may give him opportunity for speechmaking and political conferences on the side.

Much of the Democratic campaign today was centered around the reorganization of the navy.

Forrestal, former president of Dillon, Read and Co., has been serving as an executive assistant to Mr. Roosevelt.

Under the reorganization act, Mr. Roosevelt was authorized to name an undersecretary of the navy during a national or limited emergency. The post is next in line to the secretaryship held by Col. Frank Knox.

Washington, Aug. 5.—(P)—A proposal to send beleaguered Britain at least 50 American destroyers carried today the endorsement of General John J. Pershing.

The man who commanded American soldiers in France during 1917-18 said that destroyers left over from World War days should be made available to the British as a safeguard of American freedom and security.

Predicting that the most critical time for England would come in the next few weeks and months, Pershing said in a radio speech last night: "If there is anything we can do to help save the British fleet during that time, we shall be failing in our duty to America if we do not do it."

The general of the armies said he saw "grave danger" for the United States in the present world situation, and blamed disasters in seven of eight nations on "appeasers who would not take the danger seriously, who would not prepare where there was still time."

Pershing declared that "today may be the last time when by measures short of war we can still prevent war (for the Americas)."

Asserting that the United States "must be ready to meet force with a stronger force," he said: "We must make ourselves strong by building up our army and navy and establishment of the principle of universal selective service."

Boy Is Questioned In Death Of Infant

Mercer, Aug. 5.—(P)—A 15-year-old boy who told police "we were just playing doctor" was held for questioning today in the investigation of the death of his three-year-old niece.

The child died yesterday in a home in nearby Fredonia. Coroner James A. Biggins said death was caused by water from a syringe forced into her body.

In the absence of her parents, the child had been left in the custody of her young uncle and 11-year-old sister.

Questioned by state motor police and Biggins, the boy said: "We were just playing doctor and she died." The sister was also held for questioning. No charges were filed.

SPENDING TOTAL IS PUSHED ABOVE $20,000,000,000

Appropriations and Contract Authorizations for Defense Outlay Not Only Largest In History But More Than Double That Of Last Fiscal Year

MAIN PENDING ITEMS

Washington, Aug. 5.—(P)—The Budget Bureau, adding up pay-as-you-go appropriations, today found that pending appropriations and contract authorizations may push this congress' spending total above $20,000,000,000.

This figure would not only be the largest in peacetime history, but would be more than double the amount actually spent in the last fiscal year.

Statistics found that congress already has appropriated $13,824,052,124 and has authorized contracts for an additional $1,060,487,009. These funds cover all regular governmental costs, as well as special defense items.

Main pending items are an appropriation estimate of $2,237,191,957 and a contract authorization request of $2,732,960,000, both in the latest defense bill. Altogether, completed and pending expenditure proposals total $19,920,783,099.

UNDER-SECRETARY OF NAVY IS NAMED

Washington, Aug. 5.—(P)—President Roosevelt nominated James V. Forrestal, of New York, today to be under-secretary of the navy, a post created by the president under recently adopted legislation to reorganize the navy.

Forrestal, former president of Dillon, Read and Co., has been serving as an executive assistant to Mr. Roosevelt.

RELEASE CULT LEADER ON BAIL

Adel, Ga., Aug. 5.—(P)—Albert Rowan, father of a 6-year-old girl who was bitten by a poisonous snake during rites of a religious cult, was released from jail on bond today after his daughter was declared "out of danger."

The girl, Letha Mae Rowan, was examined by Dr. H. W. Clements. Her hand and arm had become swollen and her body discolored after she was bitten 11 days ago by a moccasin.

Since members of the snake-handling cult believe their faith counteracts venom, the child's mother refused to let her be treated by doctors. Her tenant-farmer father, along with Farmer-Preacher W. T. Lipham, leader of the cult, was taken into custody and charged with assault with intent to murder pending the outcome of her poisoning.

Rowan was released in $3,000 bond.

TRAINING MEASURE APPROVED

Military Committee Votes Twelve to Three To Send To Senate Floor the Burke-Wadsworth Compulsory Military Bill Requiring Registration Approximately 12,000,000 Men From the Ages Of Twenty-one to Thirty Inclusive

LEADERS ANTICIPATE LIVELY OPPOSITION

Washington, Aug. 5.—(P)—The military committee voted 12 to 3 today to send to the Senate floor the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill requiring the registration of approximately 12,000,000 men from the ages of 21 to 30, inclusive.

Committee approval cleared the way for Senate consideration this week of the measure which bore personal recommendation of Secretary of War Stimson and was recorded by the Budget Bureau as being in accordance with President Roosevelt's program.

Considerable opposition to the bill was foreshadowed in the Senate, despite the fact that only three votes were recorded against it in committee.

Senator Downey (D-Calif.), who was present at today's committee meeting, did not vote.

Senators Johnson (D-Colo.), Thomas (R-Idaho) and Lundeen (FL-MINN.) voted "no," Lundeen voting by proxy.

Machinery for registrations could be set in motion if and when the bill becomes law, but President Roosevelt could not order any draftees into service before congress appropriated money for their training.

Army officials have said they hoped to call 400,000 men for service by October, if the bill is enacted.

The bill contained a provision permitting men from 18 to 24, inclusive, to enlist voluntarily in the army for one-year training as an alternative to conscription.

The committee acted shortly before the senate began work on a related issue—presidential authority to call the National Guard into active training.

The two measures were closely intertwined in the controversy over manpower which had spread over Capitol Hill during the last month.

COL. LINDBERGH FOR AMERICAN 'COOPERATION'

Chicago, Aug. 5.—(P)—American opinion is now definitely and overwhelmingly against involvement in the European war, says Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

The noted American aviator, in an address yesterday at a peace rally at Soldier Field, urged "cooperation" with Europe "in our relationships with the other peoples of the earth."

Cheered by a crowd estimated at 40,000, Col. Lindbergh in his broadest speech said that agitation for America's entry into the European conflict had increased with alarming rapidity.

"But," he said, "when the danger of foreign war was fully realized by our people, the underlying tradition of American independence (Turn to Page Two)

Explains Contact With Nazi Envoy

"I help everybody who comes from Europe and has business relations with us. It's good business." So stated Capt. Tor-kild Rieber, chairman of the board of Texas Company, when questioned about his company's dealings with Dr. Gerhard Westrick, Hitler's trade emissary to the U. S.

DEATH RECALLS DISPUTE OVER POLE DISCOVERY

Dr. Frederick A. Cook, Who Sprang Into International Prominence In September, 1909, By Claims Of Success In Arctic Dies

SERVED PRISON TERM

New Rochelle, N. Y., Aug. 5.—(P)—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, 77-year-old explorer, whose claims to discovery of the North Pole precipitated an early twentieth-century world-wide controversy, died today after a long illness.

Stricken three months ago by a cerebral hemorrhage, the arctic adventurer of the Arctic never fully recovered, and was taken again to the hospital 10 days ago.

Dr. Cook sprang into international prominence in September, 1909, when he announced he had discovered the North Pole. Five days later Admiral Robert E. Peary claimed he had reached the top of the world first.

Cook's claim that he discovered the Pole on April 21, 1908, a year before Peary reached the world's top, eventually was held to be disproved and Peary, who insisted he had reached the Pole first, was awarded the honor.

FOURTH BODY TAKEN FROM CAMDEN RUINS

Camden, N. J., Aug. 5.—(P)—A fourth body was recovered from the ruins of the R. M. Hollingshead Company plant, plant here late last night leaving three persons still listed as missing in the $2,000,000 fire which swept the factory and adjacent territory last Tuesday.

The latest body was that of a negro, the coroner's office reported, presumably Nathaniel Banks, 40.

While workers continued to sort through the debris Mrs. John Williamson, whose daughter, Mrs. E. B. Buse, 24, is believed one of the missing, suggested a memorial tablet be erected to the women lost in the fire.

Salamanca, N. Y., Aug. 5.—(P)—A court test appeared likely today to determine whether Indians can prevent passengers from using state-maintained highways on reservation property.

Tribal chiefs of the Allegany reservation had instructions of the Seneca Indian Council to "take such legal action, or actions, as they shall deem advisable" in the case of Mrs. Ethia Van Aernam, Indian woman who used barbed wire to block whites from using a road across property she wanted for pasture.

James P. Cotter of the state attorney general's office told the Indians Saturday that since the road had been in general use "more than a hundred years" it must be presumed to be a public highway.

He pointed out that there were various laws holding that roads used for a certain length of time become public property.

But Wilfred Crouse, council president, who persuaded Mrs. Van Aernam to remove the barbed wire after she had defied state and local authorities, said the dispute would be placed in the hands of the council's attorneys.

Mrs. Van Aernam's husband, a clerk of the Seneca council, said there were "numerous" roads on the Allegany reservation which are Indian property. A court ruling, he added, would determine whether whites have a right to use them.

Pennsylvania's 14,000 Citizens Soldiers Move Toward Upstate New York to Join Mightiest Peacetime Display of American Military Strength; 15,000 Army Regulars and Nearly 70,000 Others From Northern States

TWO SPECIAL EVENTS SCHEDULED TO RETURN TENTATIVELY PLANNED ON SUNDAY AUGUST 25

Washington, Pa., Aug. 5.—(P)—Pennsylvania's 14,000 citizen soldiers moved toward upstate New York today to join in the mightiest peacetime display of American military strength.

Train, truck and automobile carried the National Guardsmen to make-believe war in which 15,000 army regulars and nearly 70,000 other Guardsmen from 12 northwestern states will participate.

Major General Edward Martin, commanding the state's troops, declared upon his departure that war conditions would be simulated as much as possible so that officers and men would learn how to handle themselves in the field.

Two special events have been planned tentatively for the Pennsylvania troops while in camp near Canton and Lisbon, N. Y.

General Martin said he hoped the entire state force may be assembled at one place during the encampment so a memorial service might be conducted for 3,000 Pennsylvania Guardsmen killed in action during the World War.

Also, Governor James is expected to be welcomed to the maneuvers by Keystone State soldiers during the week-end of August 17.

U. A. W. IN FAVOR OF THIRD TERM

St. Louis, Aug. 5.—(P)—The United Automobile Workers of America, second largest in the CIO, today threw its support behind a third term for President Roosevelt.

Delegates to the international union's annual convention adopted a resolution giving "unwavering support and allegiance to the cause of the new deal and for the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Although a stormy debate preceded adoption of the resolution it was approved by a 507 to 40 vote.

The resolution declared "social and economic security had increased under President Roosevelt's administration and the American people had faith and confidence in it."

Mr. Roosevelt's "standing qualities," it continues, "have placed other contesting candidates into virtual discard."

Opponents asserted the resolution was a slap at John L. Lewis, CIO president, who has expressed opposition to a third term. They also contended the measure would weaken attempts to gain concessions from a political party in exchange for CIO backing.

Lewis told the Townsend National convention here recently that Mr. Roosevelt had been "ignominiously defeated" by Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican nominee.

Four Officers and Eighty-three Enlisted Men, Mustered in This Afternoon at 3:30 o'Clock at Armory, Prepared to Climb Aboard Train This Evening for Three-Weeks' Participation of First Army Corps Maneuvers

Warren's unit of the Pennsylvania National Guard, Company 1, 112th Infantry, will leave tonight at 11:40 o'clock by special train for three-weeks' participation of the First Army maneuvers in northern New York State.

The local company, which is at full strength for the encampment, will travel to Lisbon, N. Y., by special train, which will also take companies from Ford City, Oil City and Franklin. From the detouring camp at Lisbon the guardsmen will travel to camp by truck.

The company, which includes four officers and 83 enlisted men, was mustered in this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the armory and is in readiness to climb aboard the special train this evening for an intensive period of training. The encampment will be the largest peacetime mobilization in the history of the country and will include approximately 100,000 men.

FARM LEADERS VISIT WILLKIE

By WILLIAM B. ARDERY—Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 5.—(P)—Wendell L. Willkie, already subject of the farm views of a group of midwestern governors, was to have three-hour conference today with more than 60 farm leaders from this section.

The conference was scheduled at the office of Governor George A. Wilson and after the conference, Willkie arranged to make a brief talk from the state house steps.

The Republican nominee, who came here by plane from his Colorado Springs, Colo., resort hotel yesterday, had dinner with four governors and four Republican gubernatorial candidates last night at the home of Gardner Cowles, Jr., at the home of Gardner Cowles, Jr.

Among those present at the preliminary discussion of farm problems were Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, Harlan J. Bushfield of South Dakota, Ralph Carr of Colorado and Wilson.

SPENDING TOTAL IS PUSHED ABOVE $20,000,000,000

Washington, Aug. 5.—(P)—The military committee voted 12 to 3 today to send to the Senate floor the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill requiring the registration of approximately 12,000,000 men from the ages of 21 to 30, inclusive.

Committee approval cleared the way for Senate consideration this week of the measure which bore personal recommendation of Secretary of War Stimson and was recorded by the Budget Bureau as being in accordance with President Roosevelt's program.

Considerable opposition to the bill was foreshadowed in the Senate, despite the fact that only three votes were recorded against it in committee.

Machinery for registrations could be set in motion if and when the bill becomes law, but President Roosevelt could not order any draftees into service before congress appropriated money for their training.

Army officials have said they hoped to call 400,000 men for service by October, if the bill is enacted.

The bill contained a provision permitting men from 18 to 34, inclusive, to enlist voluntarily in the army for one-year training as an alternative to conscription.

The committee acted shortly before the senate began work on a related issue—presidential authority to call the National Guard into active training.

The two measures were closely intertwined in the controversy over manpower which had spread over Capitol Hill during the last month.

UNDER-SECRETARY OF NAVY IS NAMED

Washington, Aug. 5.—(P)—President Roosevelt nominated James V. Forrestal, of New York, today to be under-secretary of the navy, a post created by the president under recently adopted legislation to reorganize the navy.

Forrestal, former president of Dillon, Read and Co., has been serving as an executive assistant to Mr. Roosevelt.

RELEASE CULT LEADER ON BAIL

Adel, Ga., Aug. 5.—(P)—Albert Rowan, father of a 6-year-old girl who was bitten by a poisonous snake during rites of a religious cult, was released from jail on bond today after his daughter was declared "out of danger."

The girl, Letha Mae Rowan, was examined by Dr. H. W. Clements. Her hand and arm had become swollen and her body discolored after she was bitten 11 days ago by a moccasin.

TRAINING MEASURE APPROVED

Military Committee Votes Twelve to Three To Send To Senate Floor the Burke-Wadsworth Compulsory Military Bill Requiring Registration Approximately 12,000,000 Men From the Ages Of Twenty-one to Thirty Inclusive

LEADERS ANTICIPATE LIVELY OPPOSITION

Washington, Aug. 5.—(P)—The military committee voted 12 to 3 today to send to the Senate floor the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill requiring the registration of approximately 12,000,000 men from the ages of 21 to 30, inclusive.

Committee approval cleared the way for Senate consideration this week of the measure which bore personal recommendation of Secretary of War Stimson and was recorded by the Budget Bureau as being in accordance with President Roosevelt's program.

Considerable opposition to the bill was foreshadowed in the Senate, despite the fact that only three votes were recorded against it in committee.

Senator Downey (D-Calif.), who was present at today's committee meeting, did not vote. Senators Johnson (D-Colo.), Thomas (R-Idaho) and Lundeen (FL-MINN.) voted "no," Lundeen voting by proxy.

Machinery for registrations could be set in motion if and when the bill becomes law, but President Roosevelt could not order any draftees into service before congress appropriated money for their training.

Army officials have said they hoped to call 400,000 men for service by October, if the bill is enacted.

COL. LINDBERGH FOR AMERICAN 'COOPERATION'

Chicago, Aug. 5.—(P)—American opinion is now definitely and overwhelmingly against involvement in the European war, says Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

The noted American aviator, in an address yesterday at a peace rally at Soldier Field, urged "cooperation" with Europe "in our relationships with the other peoples of the earth."

Cheered by a crowd estimated at 40,000, Col. Lindbergh in his broadcast speech said that agitation for America's entry into the European conflict had increased with alarming rapidity.

Explains Contact With Nazi Envoy

"I help everybody who comes from Europe and has business relations with us. It's good business." So stated Capt. Tor-kild Rieber, chairman of the board of Texas Company, when questioned about his company's dealings with Dr. Gerhard Westrick, Hitler's trade emissary to the U. S.

DEATH RECALLS DISPUTE OVER POLE DISCOVERY

Dr. Frederick A. Cook, Who Sprang Into International Prominence In September, 1909, By Claims Of Success In Arctic Dies

New Rochelle, N. Y., Aug. 5.—(P)—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, 77-year-old explorer, whose claims to discovery of the North Pole precipitated an early twentieth-century world-wide controversy, died today after a long illness.

Stricken three months ago by a cerebral hemorrhage, the arctic adventurer of the Arctic never fully recovered, and was taken again to the hospital 10 days ago.

Dr. Cook sprang into international prominence in September, 1909, when he announced he had discovered the North Pole. Five days later Admiral Robert E. Peary claimed he had reached the top of the world first.

Cook's claim that he discovered the Pole on April 21, 1908, a year before Peary reached the world's top, eventually was held to be disproved and Peary, who insisted he (Turn to Page Nine)

FOURTH BODY TAKEN FROM CAMDEN RUINS

Camden, N. J., Aug. 5.—(P)—A fourth body was recovered from the ruins of the R. M. Hollingshead Company plant here late last night leaving three persons still listed as missing in the $2,000,000 fire which swept the factory and adjacent territory last Tuesday.

The latest body was that of a negro, the coroner's office reported, presumably Nathaniel Banks, 40.

While workers continued to sort through the debris Mrs. John Williamson, whose daughter, Mrs. Besse Busa, 34, is believed one of the missing, suggested a memorial tablet be erected to the women lost in the fire.

ARREST IS MADE IN PITTSBURGH DEATHS

Pittsburgh, Aug. 5.—(P)—Joseph Libonati, 58, was held for the grand jury today on a charge of murder in the deaths of Mrs. Carrie Kolb, 49-year-old blond divorcee, and her boarder, John Edgar Elving, 63.

The two were shot to death as they sat in an automobile parked in a lonely street last July 24.

Libonati, who has denied the charge, was arraigned before Magistrate William D. McClelland, and held for $3,000 bond.

Rowan and Lipham, in protest against their arrests, went on a three-day hunger-strike, but they ended their fast yesterday with a hearty breakfast.

Pennsylvania's 14,000 Citizen Soldiers Move Toward Upstate New York to Join Mightiest Peace-Time Display of American Military Strength; 15,000 Army Regulars and Nearly 70,000 Others From Northern States

TWO SPECIAL EVENTS TENTATIVELY PLANNED SCHEDULED TO RETURN ON SUNDAY AUGUST 25

Washington, Pa., Aug. 5.—(P)—Pennsylvania's 14,000 citizen soldiers moved toward upstate New York today to join in the mightiest peace-time display of American military strength.

Train, truck and automobile carried the National Guardsmen to make-believe war in which 15,000 army regulars and nearly 70,000 other Guardsmen from 12 northwestern states will participate.

Major General Edward Martin, commanding the state's troops, declared upon his departure that war conditions would be simulated as much as possible so that officers and men would learn how to handle themselves in the field.

Two special events have been planned tentatively for the Pennsylvania troops while in camp near Canton and Lisbon, N. Y.

General Martin said he hoped the entire state force may be assembled at one place during the encampment so a memorial service might be conducted for 3,000 Pennsylvania Guardsmen killed in action during the World War.

Also, Governor James is expected to be welcomed to the maneuvers by Keystone State soldiers during the week-end of August 17.

U. A. W. IN FAVOR OF THIRD TERM

St. Louis, Aug. 5.—(P)—The United Automobile Workers of America, second largest in the CIO, today threw its support behind a third term for President Roosevelt.

Delegates to the international union's annual convention adopted a resolution giving "unswerving support and allegiance to the cause of the new deal and for the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Although a stormy debate preceded adoption of the resolution it was approved by a 507 to 40 vote.

The resolution declared "social and economic security had increased under President Roosevelt's administration and the American people had faith and confidence in it."

Mr. Roosevelt's outstanding qualities, "it continues, 'have placed him in a position of leadership in the virtual discard'."

Opponents asserted the resolution was a slap at John L. Lewis, CIO president, who has expressed opposition to a third term. They also contended the measure would weaken attempts to gain concessions from a political party in exchange for CIO backing.

Lewis told the Townsend National convention here recently that Mr. Roosevelt could be "ignominiously defeated" by Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican nominee.

President Calls For Unity Between Federal And State Governments In National Crisis

Washington, Aug. 5.—(P)—President Roosevelt called today for unity between federal and state governments in strengthening national defense and uncovering subversive activities.

"The common defense should be through the normal channels of local, state and national law enforcement," he said in a message to the Federal-State Conference on Law Enforcement Problems arising from the preparedness program.

"The untrained policeman is as ineffective as the untrained soldier. The amateur detective soon becomes a fussy and malicious busy-body."

Attorney General Jackson read the president's letter to governors,

FARM LEADERS VISIT WILLKIE

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 5.—(P)—Wendell L. Willkie, already advised of the farm views of a group of midwestern governors, was to have a three-hour conference today with more than 60 farm leaders from this section.

The conference was scheduled at the office of Governor George A. Wilson and after the conference, Willkie arranged to make a brief talk from the state house steps.

The Republican nominee, who came here by plane from his Colorado Springs, Colo., resort hotel yesterday, had dinner with four governors and four Republican gubernatorial candidates last night at the home of Gardner Cowles, Jr.

GOOD BEAR SEASON

According to reports from the DuBois area some of the best bear hunting in Pennsylvania will be found in northern Jefferson county next autumn. Leslie Schock, a mix animal with a run between Williamsport and Cleveland and decided to do most of his 1940 bear hunting in northern Jefferson county after his bus had been held up 10 minutes while two cubs played in the road and the mother bear looked on from the roadside.

RECEIVE CUTS

Two persons were treated for lacerations of the fingers over the weekend at the Warren General Hospital. Brooks Ambrose, 34, of Lexington, N. Y., received a severe laceration of his right index finger when he fell on a scythe while working near Tidouete. He was admitted and his condition is reported as good. Martin Josperson, 56, of 11 North Irvine street, was treated for a crushed ring finger tip which was caught in a car door.

Col. Lindbergh For American "Cooperation"

arose and in recent weeks its voice has thundered throughout the weaker cries for war.

Interrupted frequently by applause, Col. Lindbergh pleaded for American cooperation with Europe—although advocating the non-interference of this nation in Europe's internal affairs.

"It is only by cooperation that we can maintain the supremacy of our western civilization and the right of our commerce to proceed unimpeded throughout the world. Neither they nor we are strong enough to police the earth against the opposition of the other."

U. S. Senator Patrick McCarran (D-Nev.) also addressed the rally, sponsored by the "Citizens Keep America Out of War Committee." He termed the proposal for compulsory military training as "undemocratic and unnecessary," and added that "I never want to see the American flag whipped by the breeze on a foreign battlefield."

BAND CONCERT IS MUCH ENJOYED AT JOINT PICNIC

Perfect weather aided the committee planning Sunday's picnicking for members of S. F. of A. lodges in District Three, and practically every lodge in the section sent delegations.

The gathering was held at Wildcat Park at Ludlow and members of the order had the privilege of entertaining and hearing an address by their supreme president, George S. Johnson of Youngstown, Ohio.

The afternoon program was cut short by the splendid concert presented by the Knox Glass band, but all enjoyed the one and one-half hours of music.

The concluding event was the basket picnic, for which groups of friends assembled in practically every part of the park.

"THE GHOST BREAKERS" AT THE LIBRARY THEATRE TODAY AND TUESDAY

Blending mystery, murder, chicanery and comedy into one and the same picture is an art in itself, and calls for expert judgment as well as inspired spacing and timing. Paramount proved that it could be done in "The Cat and the Canary," and now comes a repeat verification—again co-starring the inimitable Bob Hope and the beautiful Paulette Goddard—in "The Ghost Breakers," which opens today at the Library Theatre. A solid column of type could never adequately outline the story, which is based on a play by Paul Dickey and Charles W. Goddard and done into a screenplay by Walter DeLeon. There's a thrill a laugh and a new mystery in practically every sequence. Briefly the picture has to do with Paulette's inheritance of a haunted castle on an island off Cuba. Sinister forces are at work to scare her into selling her estate without even investigating the stories of horror and sudden death that are associated with the castle. Bob Hope, in the character of a radio commentator, appoints himself her ally, and the two—during a night in the mystery house—experience all sorts of frights and thrills before the secret of the castle and its arch-murderer is revealed. A denouement that will not be anticipated by even the most experienced mystery solvers.

America's Card Authority

In a low stake rubber bridge game, the experienced player sometimes has a tendency to fool a bit. John C. Kunkel, congressman from Pennsylvania, held the West cards in today's hand in a rubber bridge game. After South's opening bid of two spades, Congressman Kunkel decided he would try to needle his opponents into a slam bid by making it appear that he was afraid they would get to a slam. He plunged into the bid of six clubs.

That was too much for North, who bid six spades. That might be the end of the story, had Kunkel been playing in a tournament—but this was social bridge and he was looking for some fun.

Although he had the six-spade contract definitely set, holding the ace and king of trump, Kunkel thought they would stand for a little more push and bid seven clubs, and North bid seven spades.

SCHEDULE FOR AIR MAIL HERE IS ANNOUNCED

Air mail will be picked up and delivered here at 11:25 a. m. and 4:35 p. m. under the schedule announced today by All-American Aviation, Inc., which next Monday will inaugurate three pick-up routes on a permanent basis.

The morning plane each day will leave Pittsburgh at 10 a. m., arriving at the northern terminal in Jamestown, N. Y., at 11:37 a. m. Southbound, the plane will leave Jamestown at 4:23 p. m. and arrive in Pittsburgh at 6 p. m.

As previously announced, new points on the Pittsburgh-Jamestown route, in addition to the northern terminal, are Slippery Rock and Youngsville. Service to those two points will be started immediately, but will await installation of ground stations.

Following is the schedule for the Pittsburgh-Jamestown route, as announced today.

Northbound—Leave Pittsburgh, 10 a. m.; Natrona, 10:13; Butler, 10:25; Slippery Rock, 10:33; Grove City, 10:37; Franklin, 10:48; Oil City, 10:52; Titusville, 10:57; Corry, 11:10; Youngsville, 11:19; Warren, 11:25; arrive Jamestown, 11:37.

Southbound—Leave Jamestown, 4:23 p. m.; Warren, 4:35; Youngsville, 4:41; Corry, 4:50; Titusville, 5:03; Oil City, 5:08; Franklin, 5:12; Grove City, 5:23; Slippery Rock, 5:27; Butler, 5:35; Natrona, 5:47; Pittsburgh, 6:00.

WITH FLYING EXTRAS ALL HER OWN—NANCY LOVE PICKS THE CIGARETTE WITH THE EXTRAS—CAMELS

I LIKE THE SLOWER-BURNING CIGARETTE FOR EXTRA MILDNESS AND COOLNESS. AND THE EXTRA SMOKING IN CAMELS MEANS JUST THAT MUCH MORE PLEASURE

NANCY HARKNESS LOVE "soloed" at 16, won a transport license at 18, was flying with the best before Vassar gave her up to aviation. Today, she's one of the ranking women in the game. More than a pilot: Nancy Love tests planes, sells them—has even helped build planes.

Yes, she's a girl with the "extras." She likes the "extras" in her smoking, too. Camel's extra mildness, extra coolness, extra flavor, and extra smoking are aces with her—and with millions of other smokers.

You see, Camel's costlier tobaccos are matchlessly blended into a cigarette that is slower-burning. That means freedom from the harshness and irritating qualities of excess heat. Instead of hot, flat-tasting smoke, Camels give a full flavor and fragrance that hold their appeal to the last puff... to the last extra puff, for Camels, being slower-burning, give more puffs per pack (see panel at left). So turn to the slower-burning cigarette of costlier tobaccos and get those extras your smoke-money can buy!

SMOKERS: SAVE THE COST OF THE STATE CIGARETTE TAX

Smokers who live in communities where certain state cigarette taxes are in effect can save the cost of the tax—and, in some instances, more—through smoking Camels. (See panel at left.) When you are a Camel smoker, you get this unique economy—and all the extra enjoyment of cooler, milder smoking—the fragrance and delicate taste of finer, more costly tobaccos.

TIMES TOPICS

CITIZENS MEETING

The regular meeting of the Citizens Hook and Ladder Company will be held at the Central fire station at eight o'clock this evening and a good turnout is asked.

LICENSES REVOKED

For at least 603 motorists in Pennsylvania, there are some inconvenient weeks ahead. The Bureau of Highway Safety at Harrisburg revoked fifty licenses and suspended 553 for infractions of the motor code. Operating privileges were restored to an additional 380.

MANY HEAR BAND

An exceptionally large number of people heard the Knox Glass Associates band concert at Wildcat Park at Ludlow on Sunday afternoon. Groups gathered at the park included S. P. of A. lodges of District Three; also twelve different family reunions.

ARMY ENLISTMENTS

Col. F. H. Burr, at Pittsburgh, reports enlistments of 650 young men in the army during July, marking the greatest number received in that district during any peace-time drive. Applications totaled 1,045 with 398 rejected because of physical defects, mainly eyes, ears and teeth.

INDUSTRY GAINS

Private industry is continuing to cut into Pennsylvania's relief population but an adverse trend in federal W. P. A. activity is offsetting this advantage, state officials at Harrisburg report. Improved business reduced the rolls a net total of 1,765 in the last week of July but discontinued W. P. A. work added 4,528.

TO EXTEND MAIL ROUTE

All-American Aviation Service, Inc., recently granted a permit for three pickup airmail routes, has notified the Board of Commerce at Bradford that it plans to add Bradford, Kane and Ridgway to its schedule later. The company said the towns have been passed up in straightening out the routes for speed and efficient operation.

Yes, then the congressman doubled.

Truly strategic bidding, but isn't Congress as a whole a strategically bidding group?

Life Must Go On

War or no war—life must go on for civilians. Hungry mouths must be fed, clothes must be bought, shelter must be paid for. So Parisians, grown desperate as their savings dwindle, turn to the paper marks of their German conquerors—for the marks are worth 20 francs apiece. This exclusive first photo of German-ruled Paris shows a French man and woman selling souvenirs to Nazi soldiers. The scene is the world-famous Place de la Concorde. Hotel Crillon, in left background, was headquarters of American Peace Delegation in 1918—now a German headquarters.

NO LONGER AWAKENS FEELING TIRED AS THE NIGHT BEFORE

Youngsville resident says since Vendol relieved constipation he enjoys restful sleep and is ready for day's work. Advises everyone to try "Vendol"

Vendol grows more popular every day as substantial local citizens relate how it has helped them and give their advice to others suffering the same way to try this famous medicine made from extracts of Nature's Roots and Herbs with Alkalines aimed for extra benefits.

Mr. Archie C. Graham, of 229 Bates street, Youngsville, near Warren, says, "I suffered almost daily from constipation which upset my stomach so that gas, bloating, sourness, and acid risings, made me very uncomfortable; and also made my nerves quivery so that my sleep was often light and disturbed. I lay awake by the hour some nights; then next morning would get up feeling washed-out and like I couldn't do the day's job. I began taking Vendol a few weeks ago and it helped me at once, so I kept it up and got marvelous relief from constipation; then the other troubles just gradually disappeared till now I'm feeling just fine again. I advise everyone needing a medicine like this to be sure to get Vendol because it will help them."

Vendol is sold and displayed by all leading druggists, and is highly recommended here by Miller's Cut Rate Drug Store.

Modest, But Comfortable

Although the 9350-ton cargo liner Exedra is a far cry from the luxury steamers to which the Duke and Duchess of Windsor are accustomed, "Captain and Mrs. Wood," as they are registered, should not have a cramped voyage from London to New York. For instance, here's the "Country Club" veranda, which is included in the Windsor's 10-room private suite.

I lay awake by the hour some nights; then next morning would get up feeling washed-out and like I couldn't do the day's job. I began taking Vendol a few weeks ago and it helped me at once, so I kept it up and got marvelous relief from constipation; then the other troubles just gradually disappeared till now I'm feeling just fine again. I advise everyone needing a medicine like this, to be sure to get Vendol because it will help them."

Vendol is sold and displayed by all leading druggists, and is highly recommended here by Miller's Cut Rate Drug Store.

Modest, But Comfortable

Although the 9359-ton cargo liner Excalibur is a far cry from the luxury steamers to which the Duke and Duchess of Windsor are accustomed, "Captain and Mrs. Wood," as they are registered, should not have a cramped voyage from Lisbon to New York. For instance, here's the "Country Club" veranda, which is included in the Windsors' 10-room private suite.

Here's looking down on the Indiana town of Elwood as it prepares for the biggest day in its history, Saturday, Aug. 17, when native Wendell Willkie returns to accept the Republican nomination for President. Willkie will make his acceptance at Callaway Park on the outskirts, after greeting friends from the steps of the high school. Anderson Street is the main route to the park.

CAPITAL GOSSIP

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The Washington scene has changed more rapidly since the Chicago convention than in any similar period since the New Deal took over in 1933.

Three administration veterans, wheel horses in the Democratic party who have been around here some time, have departed. There is some possibility that a fourth will follow. It'll never be the same. Washington without "Big Jim" Farley, "Cactus Jack" Garner, "Lou" Johnson, nor without Paul McNutt, if he goes home too, as some of his friends say he will.

Most missed perhaps will be Farley, the big genial fellow who came down with "The Boss" in 1933, parked at the Postmaster General's desk and for seven years gave all he had to the twin jobs of seeing that the mail went through and keeping the Democratic party machinery running smoothly.

Farley will be hard to replace. Target of all the abuse of Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats, he stood the polshots without a whimper.

Garner Career Over?

FARLEY'S split with the President over the third term was merely the final straw. The breach in the relations had been widening for a couple of years as President Roosevelt turned more and more to the inner circle New Dealers and less to his old campaign manager with his confidences and plans.

Nobody who was with Farley in those closing days of the convention could fail to see how deeply hurt he was that he had been brushed aside as the group that had its nucleus in Harry Hopkins, Senators "Jimmy" Byrnes and Alben Barkley took over.

Farley might have quit the government anyway to repair his personal fortunes, but he would rather have done it under different circumstances and with less misgivings for the future of the Democratic party to which he has been so devoted.

When Vice President John

Nance Garner departed for Uvalde, Texas, the other day, it was a grim, tearful little knot of friends who saw him and Mrs. Garner off at the station.

It was no secret that Garner was embittered by the "third term." His friends say that he may never return to Washington, but whether he does or doesn't, it probably is the end of his long political career, as I pointed out here some months back.

With Louis Johnson, the 200-pound, machine-gun talking lawyer from Clarksburg, W. Va., who threw Army defense measures into high gear, as Undersecretary of War, it was not a question of the "third term." But he was the victim of changing politics that put Republican Henry L. Stimson in as Secretary of War. It was no secret that Johnson felt he was due the Secretary of War post.

When he didn't get it and was not rewarded at Chicago by a nod from the President that might have made him Roosevelt's running mate, he too departed. President Roosevelt has offered him the job of executive assistant in charge of the national defense drive, but his friends here express doubt that he will accept.

McNutt For 3d Term

McNUTT'S position is more complicated. An original third-termist, his disappointment came when the President didn't throw the Vice-Presidency wide open.

The question now is whether McNutt's withdrawal in behalf of Henry Wallace will be rewarded. He is high up on the list of those mentioned for Farley's two jobs but the inner circle New Dealers have kept him at arm's length ever since he has been here.

Sheffield News

NEW LIGHTS

Street lights, a minus quantity all these years on the side streets in the west end of town, finally have made an appearance in that section, having recently been installed on First, Second, Hall and Miller streets and on Tionesta as far as the Foulkrod street intersection. This much needed improvement, brought about through the concerted action of the property owners of the newly-lighted section, is a most welcome one.

CLUB MEETS

Announcement was made at the regular meeting of the Sheffield Rod and Gun Club Thursday evening in American Legion Home that the organization now is a corporation, the county court recently having approved and accepted the club's application to exist henceforth as a Pennsylvania non-profit incorporated organization. The articles of incorporation permit the club to sell stock to raise funds with which to build a clubhouse, and it is expected that the stock will be placed on sale within the next week or two.

There were about 40 members and guests present at the meeting, which was conducted by A. K. Daniels, club president. Much of the meeting was given over to a discussion of the recent destruction of fish life in Tionesta Creek. Individual testimony about the episode was heard and a course of action on the matter was planned and adopted.

SIDE SLIPS

(By Spin Inn)

Maybe you haven't missed our weekly column in the paper, but we have missed writing to you. Here we go with more news from the Warren Airport.

Ship King sold his 40 horsepower Cub to three young fellows from Johnstown. They have been taking lessons from Slip, but just recently have taken the plane to a port nearer home.

Everyone is awaiting the arrival of Ship's new plane, which is due on August 8th. It is a 65 Cub. All you flyers come down and get checked out the first day. It will be a great thrill to handle a new plane.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schuler are back from a pleasant trip to New Haven, Conn., where they visited relatives. If you know Fred, perhaps he will show you the beautiful colored pictures that he and his wife took. They include various airports at which they stopped, lovely pictures of New York, the harbor and also pictures taken on foot at the fair.

Evelyn Dickie, of Long Beach, Cal., sister of Mrs. Schuler, took part in the airport activities while here. She attended our ground school and became so interested that she put in about seven hours of flight instruction from Slip.

Mrs. Helen Walker is now at the Pittsburgh-Butler Airport taking a refresher course. We all wish her the best of luck and hope she returns with an instructor's rating. Warren already boasts two instructors, Ship King and Mushy Mathis, but a third will do no harm.

Mushy Mathis is also a ground school instructor and we really like our rules from him. There are so many air-minded people attending ground school that it is being held in the Trinity Memorial parish house. The Civilian Pilot Training program is away to a good start. The first lesson was the History of Aviation, which proved to be interesting. You will find the more you learn, the more interesting classes will become. Why don't you CPTP's think up some good questions and try to stick Mushy?

Mrs. Elmer Pickett, from Buffalo, N. Y., visiting at the home of Mrs. Elsie Culbertson, enjoyed her first plane ride in some of our roughest weather. She stated it was one of her most thrilling experiences.

Visitors must like the hospitality of the airport for they always keep coming and we think "the more the merrier." Here are some recent visitors:

Richard Gamble and S. K. Wyatt flew from Meadville in a Cub. They had nothing definite in mind. Just flew up for the ride. Mr. Wyatt is Fred Schuler's brother-in-law. Perhaps that accounts for his interest in aviation.

J. L. Moley, from Washington D. C., brought in a passenger from Pittsburgh. He was flying an A 17 Northrup. It's an army attack ship. No doubt that was the plane that woke you up with a jolt.

Earl Gillen and P. Evertsen flew all the way from Lock Haven to attend a reunion at Kinzua.

D. A. Furlong dropped in long enough to say "Hello" on his way to Clanton.

J. Lockman from Pittsburgh flew here in an Aeronaca C-3. It's a small two-cylinder job. That seems like an interesting plane and I had to miss it.

That's all the news I know for the present. I'll be seeing every one at ground school. That is I hope everyone turns out.

WARREN COUNTY RELIEF LOAD IS ON THE DECLINE

Despite the fact that Pennsylvania's direct relief load showed an increase, the number of public assistance cases in Warren county registered a net decrease of six cases during the week ending July 27, according to information received today from Howard L. Russell, state secretary of public assistance.

The decrease in the county brought the total relief load down to 227 cases, representing 753 persons. The decrease was the result of opening eight cases and closing 14.

Of the cases opened, two lost private employment, one lost WPA employment and five were opened for miscellaneous reasons. Of the cases closed, eight received private employment, one received WPA employment, one was given unemployment compensation and four were closed for various other reasons.

Cost of relief in the county during the week was $1,224.38.

In the state there was a net increase of 1,360 cases, bringing the total to 168,882 cases (496,643 persons). Cost of relief in the state during the week was $1,152,729.01.

Following are the figures for some nearby counties:

Clarion—Cases, 334; increase, 6; cost, $2,054.87.

Crawford—Cases, 541; increase, 2; cost, $3,085.41.

Elk—Cases, 281; no change; cost, $1,096.76.

Elze—Cases, 1,967; increase, 30; cost, $12,268.75.

McKean—Cases, 393; increase, 14; cost, $2,310.39.

Venango—Cases, 875; increase, 8; cost, $5,894.34.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Here in the witty east, where jokes are almost never new, but where they sometimes do have timely twists, Frankie Masters takes time out from directing his band to tell of the little shop he passed up in Harlem. Undoubtedly, the proprietor of this shop was a movie fan, as you shall see.

When Frankie passed the shop he observed a window card which listed the more appetizing of the shop's wares. The first item, for instance, said "Swiss Cheese, 24c." The second said "Klunkless and Boneless Sausages, 18c."

The third said "Georgia Melons, 50c." The fourth said "Turkey Sandwich, 30c."

Down at the bottom of the card was lettered:

"All This, and Herring Too."

THEN there's the one about the three cross-eyed prisoners and the cross-eyed judge which makes Eddy Duchin laugh more than any other. The three prisoners were lined up before the judge.

"What's your name?" demanded the judge of the 1st prisoner. The 2nd prisoner said, "Smith."

"I wasn't talking to you," boomed the judge.

The 3rd prisoner replied, "I never said a word."

AFTER sitting in on the "Lunch on at the Waldorf" program the other day we shared a late snack with Ilka Chase, and sure enough she had one too. A funny story, I mean. The one Ilka likes to tell is about the WPA worker who opened his weekly salary envelope and found that his check was one cent short. He had received $14.99 instead of the customary $15. This burned him up, and after delivering a tirade against the government in particular and the world in general, he sat down and batted out a sizzling letter to FDR. Presently one of the President's secretaries received the letter, and he was so stunned by its contents that he showed it to the President.

"Have Mr. Morgenthau send this man a check," Mr. Roosevelt suggested.

Several days later the WPA worker was delighted to find in his mailbox a check for 1c from the United States government. Why, this wasn't such a bad world after all, he thought, hurrying to the bank.

When he arrived he tossed the check to the teller. "How about cashing this?" he blustered.

The teller glanced at the check, glanced back at the WPA worker, and without batting an eye said, "How do you want it—heads or tails?"

PRESENT also at this confab was Joan Blaine, the radio actress, who said she didn't know any jokes but that she had had a funny experience with a "deaf and dumb" man that afternoon.

"What was that?" we wanted to know.

Well, she said, she always had been interested in the sign language used by people who had lost their senses of hearing and speech. She had even gone to the trouble of learning the sign language. That was when she was a teacher in a Colorado mining camp.

During the afternoon she was approached on 6th avenue by a man who presented her with a card which said he could neither speak nor hear, and could she help him. On impulse Joan began talking with him in the language of the deaf and dumb.

But the man didn't get it. Suddenly she said, "Is that your dollar on the sidewalk?"

The "deaf and dumb" man quickly looked around and cried, "Where!"

QUALITY FOODS DAY AND NIGHT AT TEXAS LUNCH

the kitchen, which you are invited to make at any time, will show you how the food is handled and prepared before it is served, and you will be amazed to note everything is as clean as the cleanest kitchen in Warren in spite of the large quantities of food handled day in and day out.

Quick, courteous service is the watchword. You need not eat in a hurry but the Texas Lunch feels you should be served as quickly as possible in case you must hurry back to the office or for some business engagement.

Booths and counter service is offered and you'll find it an ideal eating place to take the entire family for no matter what you may think of in the line of food you'll find it at the Texas Lunch, 214 Penna. Ave., W.

Warren is to be congratulated on having the White House Inn where sensational floor shows are being presented right along and where you can take those visiting friends and relatives for a little relaxation on these warm summer nights.

You'll always find good, clean entertainment at this popular night spot and the finest talent possible in the way of good orchestra music and entertainers.

Above all, too, you aren't paying big prices for the menu on either food or mixed drinks will disclose to you how reasonably you can take your girl friend or guest to the White House Inn, spend a few happy hours and come away without your pocketbook being flattened.

Everyone likes to get away from the routine of business, especially on warm summer nights, for a little enjoyment and relaxation and the management of the White House Inn seeks to provide a place for people like that where they can sit and listen to the strains of popular orchestra music, plus floor show entertainment, good food and good drinks.

If you are in the minority of Warren people who haven't visited the White House Inn as yet then you are missing a treat and once you've spent an evening there you'll want to return again and again.

Why not take the family out for a change, too? They'll all enjoy it—and you can spend an evening as reasonably as you can doing almost anything else.

The White House Inn management welcomes suggestions and seeks to give you a keen sense of enjoyment when you pay them a visit.

POLITICAL HISTORY

At the time of the nomination of Wendell Willkie for president by the Republican party there was considerable political discussion about the fact that Mr.
Willkie was quite recently a Democrat.

The nomination of a former Democrat this year, however, according to historians, does not set a precedent, because it happened before in the Republican history.

General Ulysses S. Grant, who served two terms as a Republican president, was a Democrat before he was nominated by the G. O. P. in 1868. He never voted any other than the Democratic ticket up to that time, it is said. He became the G. O. P. nominee in 1868 because the Republicans were credited with outsmarting their political opponents.

In that year, history records, the Democratic national convention was set to precede the Republican convention by two weeks. The Democrats had been on the wrong side on the slavery and secession questions and they needed a war hero in that important political year. They asked Grant if he would accept the nomination for president, and he said he would.

The Republicans heard about the Democrats' plans.
They moved their convention date a month ahead and nominated Grant. The Civil War general probably reasoning that a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush, accepted, and from that time on he was a Republican.

History relates that he was nominated on the first ballot. In the election he had 214 electoral votes to 80 for Seymour. He was renominated and re-elected in 1872 defeating Horace Greeley.

It is interesting to note in this connection that Grant's administrations were notable for reduction of public debt; treaty with England in 1871; settlement of the Canadian boundary and fisheries question, and the 15th amendment to the constitution; commercial treaty with Mexico.

At the Republican convention in 1880 he led for 36 ballots, when Garfield was named.

HOW TO HAVE FUN

Somebody connected with Ava, Mo., is just having himself a whale of a good time.

We don't know who he is, and neither does anybody else. But residents of that small Ozark county seat town would like to find out.

Last February a half dozen Ava people received anonymous cashier's checks with requests to "use this and try to make someone as happy as this makes you." From time to time other donations arrived, ranging from $10 to a church up to $150 to the mayor. They come, not necessarily to people in dire need, but to just ordinary people whose activities have apparently met approval of the unknown benefactor.

Evidently the "Sunshine Friend" is not rich, but simply has more money than he needs, and wants to make people happy.

People have many ways of trying to make themselves happy in a world that is all too full of pain.
Here is one unknown person who has found a way.

GOOD BYE AND GOOD LUCK

Reminiscent of World War days a large crowd will be at the Pennsylvania railroad depot tonight at 11:40 o'clock to join in the farewell reception for Company I, 112th Infantry, Pennsylvania National Guard, when the unit leaves to participate the next three weeks, in the First Army maneuvers in New York state, in what is to be the largest peace-time mobilization in the history of the country.

Recruited to full strength and drilled by an especially capable staff of officers to a point that might be considered to be almost perfect the Company may be depended upon to make an excellent showing during its stay in northern New York.

Our best wishes for a pleasant adventure and safe return accompany the local Guardsmen.

The popularity of Rev. T. S. Dickson was again attested by the large congregation that attended the morning service at the First Presbyterian church Sunday, to hear the former pastor.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Administration political leaders are casting an anxious eye at Chicago these days, trying to determine whether the big Keep America Out of War really may not result in an organized effort to swing isolationist sentiment to support of Wendell Willkie.

The meeting, at which the names of Senator Bennett, Clark and Charles A. Lindbergh were stellar drawing cards, germinated in a local council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. It was an effort to bring together all elements wanting to assure non-involvement in the European war. Included are such diverse supporters as the V. F. W., Disabled American Veterans, League of American Mothers, Daughters of 1812, Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, Catholic Daughters of America, United Spanish War Veterans, with distinct cordiality, if not official support, from Labor's Non-Partisan League,
Father Coughlin, the Communist Party, and various peace and church organizations.

Some 300 organizations have been listed as supporters of the Keep Out of War rally. These very diverse elements have in common only the feeling that America must not go to war. But if they could be persuaded that Willkie fills that bill better than Roosevelt, they might bear worthwhile weight on the political scene.

Capt. William Green Grace, 33d Division World War veteran, who introduced the original resolution for the rally in his V. F. W. post, denies strenuously any possible political implication of the rally.

"We realize that the people who attend will be supporting the Keep Out of War movement for various and maybe even contradictory reasons," Captain Grace emphasized before the meeting. "All we want to do is to show the extent of this sentiment, not why it exists. We have no connection with any former Keep Out of War committees, we have no politics, we have no future plans—we organize simply to stage this rally. Nobody is going to be allowed to use the meeting for any other purposes than the one stated—to demonstrate Keep Out of War sentiment."
"As a matter of fact, we sent invitations to the whole national committee of both parties. Both pledged anti-war planks. Of course, I don't know what response we'll get."

Grace admits a chance that permanent organization might result from the Chicago meeting, but denies that any such course was planned. A Republican candidate for municipal judge, prominent in the Irish Fellowship Club, Grace secured the services of Avery Brundage as chairman "because I myself don't cut any ice."
He has been actively speaking against war involvement around Chicago for many months, feeling strongly that "to get involved in war would destroy democracy and bring in the very things we would be fighting against. After this there must be one country where democratic principles still survive."

There is evidence that several existing organizations may try to make capital of the Chicago rally.

The unsightly appearance of that portion of the river front known as Bridge street will be given attention this fall by county commissioners. This will afford a small park in the business center of the town which will prove a convenience and there are possibilities of making it very attractive.

The annual picnic of the Grand Valley Lodge of Odd Fellows yesterday outlasted all others, it being estimated there were 4,000 people in attendance. Many from Warren swelled the crowd.

Members of the Butter-Krust baseball team left via automobile today for Ridgway, where they play the fast Elk county team this afternoon.

Carl Russo, who has been selling ice cream from a wagon for the past eleven years, expects to open up his handsome new store at the corner of Conewango and East Third avenues, next Saturday.

It happens scores of times daily that persons excited over boarding a street car crowd on before the passengers desiring to alight have done so.

Miss Anna Rockwell entertained at the Thursday afternoon Bridge club at luncheon at the Woman's Club today.

A checkup at the city market on fresh fruits and vegetables shows that the hot weather has had very little effect so far on the farm produce, but those in charge stated that prices would be raised soon if rain did not come.

The Barrette Cleaners cleaned up on the Hot Dog aggregation last night, defeating them by a score of 9 to 2. The Texas Lunch boys started out in a dangerous manner and led the parade for three innings, but "Dad" Feiro's boys came back strong to take the match in regular fashion.

The executive committee of the Lander fair met last evening, the meeting being in charge of Clyde Hodges, general superintendent.
On the committee are Floyd Wilcox, Aaron White, G. C. Dunbar, Erma Hitchcock and Floyd Marsh.

Three east side boys are engaged in a bicycle riding endurance contest. They are Kenneth Cole, Warren Decker and David Bean.
They started riding a bicycle yesterday morning at ten o'clock and have kept going in two hour relays since.

Airport officials are expecting a plane from the Sky View lines in Warren during the next few days, when arrangements will be completed for making Warren a regular stop on the Buffalo-Pittsburgh route.

but Grace insisted strongly that any such tieups were not intended and would not be permitted.

STORIES IN STAMPS

U. S. Trade-Mark Used For Peru Stamp Design

THERE seems to be no limit to the subjects that may be used for stamp designs. Portraits, buildings, animals, transportation, even legends and myths have been used on stamps. One of the most unusual designs, however, was that of the Peruvian unemployment fund semi-postal of 1938, reproduced above.

The New York engraver was asked to submit a design. An official found a picture he liked, one that seemed to fit the stamp's purpose. Peru accepted the engraving. Only after the stamps were issued was it discovered that the design was the trade-mark of an American insurance company.
President Roosevelt designed a stamp—the U. S. 3-cent stamp commemorating the Byrd Antarctic Expedition. While discussing the stamp, the President drew a rough sketch that later became the design of Admiral Byrd's flights and expeditions.

The U. S. 2-cent Red Cross commemorative was a poster before it became a stamp. The stamp has retained the poster's title, "The World's Greatest Mother."

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Johnny, you'd better be looking for your gun.

If you are an able-bodied male, between 21 and 31, without dependents and not working in a key position in some defense industry, you are going to need it.

That is the way the thing looks now, although I have pointed out before that the compulsory military service bill is in for a battle before it clears the Senate and House and is signed by the President. A law in some form it will become, certainly—the only time that any sort of compulsory military service has become operative in the United States during peace time.

The way the bill looks at this writing, about 12,000,000 young men are going to register with their respective draft boards sometime in September. Within a month, 400,000 will be told to report for military training, and although some will have legiti-mate excuses which will exempt them, the rest can take it and like it . . . or go to jail.

We Need A Big Stick

THE reason for the bill—and a majority of the folks back home seem to agree that the reason is adequate—is primarily that we were caught without a navy adequate to defend both oceans.
Not having a navy that can take care of the Atlantic as well as the Pacific (best estimates are that it will be 1947 before we can reach that state of preparedness), the idea is that we must have an army which will scare the pants off anybody.

Opponents of the bill aren't arguing that we don't need the army . . . they're just claiming that we can get enough men by enlistment. The army people, having been through all that before, say it can't be done, despite recent enlistments of about a thousand a day. They claim, and history backs them up, that shortly this voluntary business will reach the saturation point when they'll have days when nobody comes in and says "I wanna be a sojer."

The bill currently provides for registration of men who are 18 and not yet 64. Only those between 21 and 45 are liable for military service, but the others may have to serve in home defense units. There's a probability that men under 21 and over 45 will not have to register at present.

Of the estimated 12,000,000 men between 21 and 31, one out of 30 will be called to the colors for 12 months' service, around the last of September. The idea is to call 400,000 more men come spring, and 600,000 more in the fall of 1941. The bill states as strongly as Congress can that all should be given their jobs back when they return from duty. In the case of businesses not involved in interstate commerce, all Congress can do is urge.

You Can Sit It Out, Too

EXEMPTIONS will include men employed in agriculture or other occupations necessary to national health, safety or interest; men with dependents, and men mentally, physically or morally unfit.

Selection will be made by lottery. "Draft dodgers" (men filing false returns) will be subject to five years in the hoosegow or $10,- 000 fine.

It's called the Burke-Wadsworth bill and the White House hasn't given its official nod to the measure. It may not go through but whether this one does or doesn't, Johnny, you'll get your gun. Unless, of course, a Spitfire should squat in the lap of Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin & Co. (the & Co. being mostly Japan's war party)
... in which event I guess, Johnny, we could just go on about our business.

POLITICAL HISTORY

At the time of the nomination of Wendell Willkie for president by the Republican party there was considerable political discussion about the fact that Mr. Willkie was quite recently a Democrat.

The nomination of a former Democrat this year, however, according to historians, does not set a precedent, because it happened before in the Republican history.

General Ulysses S. Grant, who served two terms as a Republican president, was a Democrat before he was nominated by the G. O. P. in 1868. He never voted any other than the Democratic ticket up to that time, it is said. He became the G. O. P. nominee in 1868 because the Republicans were credited with outsmarting their political opponents.

In that year, history records, the Democratic national convention was set to precede the Republican convention by two weeks. The Democrats had been on the wrong side on the slavery and secession questions and they needed a war hero in that important political year. They asked Grant if he would accept the nomination for president, and he said he would.

The Republicans heard about the Democrats' plans. They moved their convention date a month ahead and nominated Grant. The Civil War general probably reasoning that a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush, accepted, and from that time on he was a Republican.

History relates that he was nominated on the first ballot. In the election he had 214 electoral votes to 80 for Seymour. He was renominated and re-elected in 1872 defeating Horace Greeley.

It is interesting to note in this connection that Grant's administrations were notable for reduction of public debt; treaty with England in 1871; settlement of the Canadian boundary and fisheries question, and the 15th amendment to the constitution; commercial treaty with Mexico.

At the Republican convention in 1880 he led for 36 ballots, when Garfield was named.

HOW TO HAVE FUN

Somebody connected with Ava, Mo., is just having himself a whale of a good time.

We don't know who he is, and neither does anybody else. But residents of that small Ozark county seat town would like to find out.

Last February a half dozen Ava people received anonymous cashier's checks with requests to "use this and try to make someone as happy as this makes you." From time to time other donations arrived, ranging from $10 to a church up to $150 to the mayor. They come, not necessarily to people in dire need, but to just ordinary people whose activities have apparently met approval of the unknown benefactor. Evidently the "Sunshine Friend" is not rich, but simply has more money than he needs, and wants to make people happy.

People have many ways of trying to make themselves happy in a world that is all too full of pain. Here is one unknown person who has found a way.

GOOD BYE AND GOOD LUCK

Reminiscent of World War days a large crowd will be at the Pennsylvania railroad depot tonight at 11:40 o'clock to join in the farewell reception for Company I, 112th Infantry, Pennsylvania National Guard, when the unit leaves to participate the next three weeks, in the First Army maneuvers in New York state, in what is to be the largest peace-time mobilization in the history of the country.

Recruited to full strength and drilled by an especially capable staff of officers to a point that might be considered to be almost perfect the Company may be depended upon to make an excellent showing during its stay in northern New York.

Our best wishes for a pleasant adventure and safe return accompany the local Guardsmen.

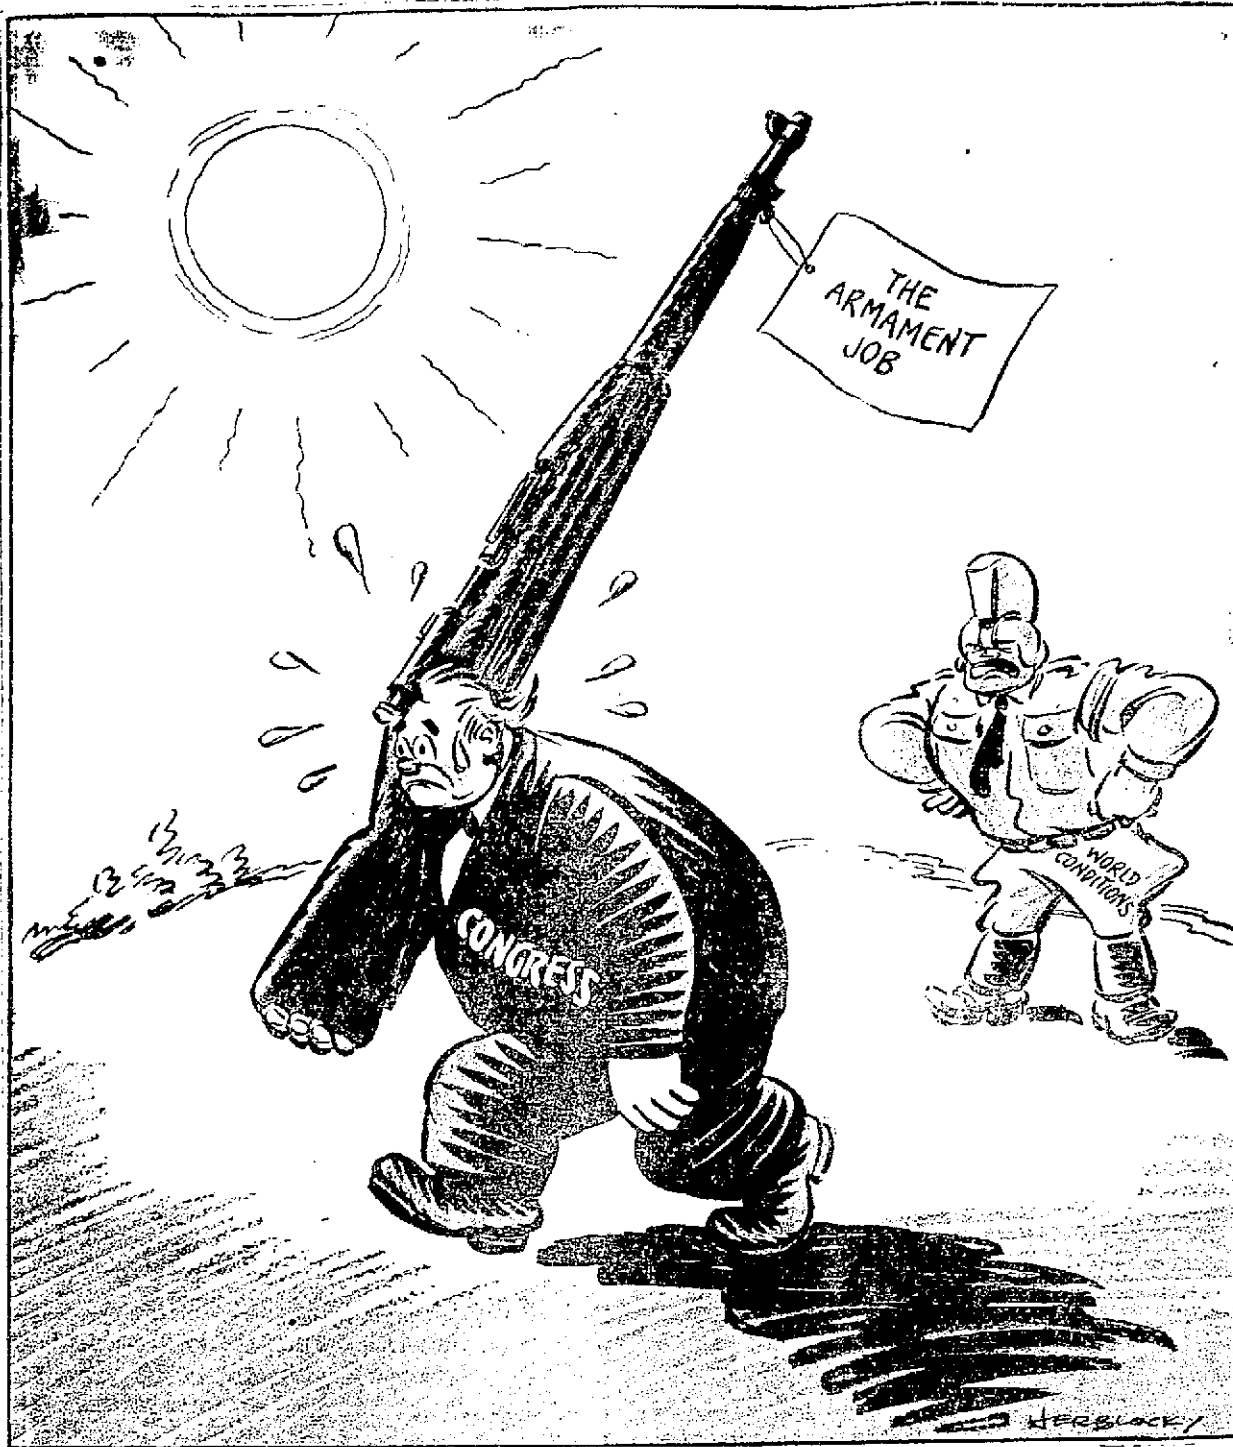

The popularity of Rev. T. S. Dickson was again attested by the large congregation that attended the morning service at the First Presbyterian church Sunday, to hear the former pastor.

YOUR NATION'S CAPITOL

By Bruce Catton

The Times-Mirror Washington Correspondent

BACKERS DENY ANY CONNECTION WITH OTHER BODIES

Washington, Aug. 5.—Administration political leaders are casting an anxious eye at Chicago these days, trying to determine whether the big Keep America Out of War rally may not result in an organized effort to swing isolationist sentiment to support of Wendell Willkie.

The meeting, at which the names of Senator Bennett Clark and Charles A. Lindbergh were stellar drawing cards, germinated in a local council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. It was an effort to bring together all elements wanting to assure non-involvement in the European war. Included are such diverse supporters as the V. F. W., Disabled American Veterans, League of American Mothers, Daughters of 1812, Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, Catholic Daughters of America, United Spanish War Veterans, with distinct cordiality, if not official support, from Labor's Non-Partisan League, Father Coughlin, the Communist Party, and various peace and church organizations.

Some 300 organizations have been listed as supporters of the Keep Out of War rally. These very diverse elements have in common only the feeling that America must not go to war. But if they could be persuaded that Willkie fills that bill better than Roosevelt, they might bear worthwhile weight on the political scene.

Capt. William Green Grace, 33rd Division World War veteran, who introduced the original resolution for the rally in his V. F. W. post, denies strenuously any possible political implication of the rally.

"We realize that the people who attend will be supporting the Keep Out of War movement for various and maybe even contradictory reasons," Captain Grace emphasized before the meeting. "All we want to do is to show the extent of this sentiment, not why it exists. We have no connection with any former Keep Out of War committee. We have no politics, we have no future plans—we organized simply to stage this rally. Nobody is going to be allowed to use the meeting for any other purposes than the one stated—to demonstrate Keep Out of War sentiment."

"As a matter of fact, we sent invitations to the whole national committee of both parties. Both pledged anti-war planks. Of course, I don't know what response we'll get."

Grace admits a chance that permanent organization might result from the Chicago meeting, but denies that any such course was planned. A Republican candidate for municipal judge, prominent in the Irish Fellowship Club, Grace secured the services of Avery Brundage as chairman "because I myself don't cut any ice."

He has been actively speaking against war involvement, around Chicago for many months, feeling strongly that "to get involved in war would destroy democracy and bring in the very things we would be fighting against. After this war there must be one country where democratic principles still survive."

There is evidence that several existing organizations may try to make capital of the Chicago rally.

The unsightly appearance of that portion of the river front known as Bridge street will be given attention this fall by county commissioners. This will afford a small park in the business center of the town which will prove a convenience and there are possibilities of making it very attractive.

The annual picnic of the Grand Valley Lodge of Odd Fellows yesterday outlasted all others, it being estimated there were 4,000 people in attendance. Many from Warren swelled the crowd.

Members of the Braddock baseball team left via automobile today for Ridgway, where they play the fast Elk county team this afternoon.

Carl Russo, who has been selling ice cream from a wagon for the past eleven years, expects to open up his handsome new store at the corner of Conewango and East Third avenues, next Saturday.

It happens scores of times early that persons excited over hearing a street car crowd on before the passengers desiring to alight have done so.

Miss Anna Rockwell entertained the Thursday afternoon Bridge club at luncheon at the Woman's Club today.

STORIES IN STAMPS

U. S. Trade-Mark Used For Peru Stamp Design

THERE seems to be no limit to the subjects that may be used for stamp designs. Portraits, buildings, animals, transportation, even legends and myths have been used on stamps. One of the most unusual designs, however, was that of the Peruvian unemployment fund semi-postal of 1938, reproduced above.

The New York engraver was asked to submit a design. An official found a picture he liked, one that seemed to fit the stamp's purpose. Peru accepted the engraving. Only after the stamps were issued was it discovered that the design was the trade-mark of an American insurance company.

President Roosevelt designed a stamp—the U. S. 3-cent stamp commemorating the Byrd Antarctic Expedition. While discussing the stamp, the President drew a rough sketch that later became the design. It shows a globe with routes of Admiral Byrd's flights and expeditions.

The U. S. 2-cent Red Cross commemorative was a poster before it became a stamp. The stamp has retained the poster's title, "The World's Greatest Mother."

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Johnny, you'd better be looking for your gun.

If you are an able-bodied male, between 21 and 31, without dependents and not working in a key position in some defense industry, you are going to need it.

That is the way the thing looks now, although I have pointed out before that the compulsory military service bill is in for a battle before it clears the Senate and House and is signed by the President. A law in some form it will become, certainly—the only time that any sort of compulsory military service has become operative in the United States during peace time.

The way the bill looks at this writing, about 12,000,000 young men are going to register with their respective draft boards sometime in September. Within a month, 400,000 will be told to report for military training, and although some will have legitimate excuses which will exempt them, the rest can take it and like it... or go to jail.

We Need A Big Stick

THE reason for the bill—and a majority of the folks back home seem to agree that the reason is adequate—is primarily that we were caught without a navy adequate to defend both oceans. Not having a navy that can take care of the Atlantic as well as the Pacific (best estimates are that it will be 1947 before we can reach that state of preparedness), the idea is that we must have an army which will scare the pants off anybody.

Opponents of the bill aren't arguing that we don't need the army... they're just claiming that we can get enough men by enlistment. The army, people, having been through all that before, say it can't be done, despite recent enlistments of about a thousand a day. They claim, and history backs them up, that shortly this voluntary business will reach the saturation point and they'll have days when nobody comes in and says "I wanna be a sojer."

You Can Sit It Out, Too

EXEMPTIONS will include men employed in agriculture or other occupations necessary to national health, safety or interest; men with dependents, and men mentally, physically or morally unfit.

Selection will be made by lottery. "Draft dodgers" (men filing false returns) will be subject to five years in the house or $10,000 fine.

It's called the Burke-Wadsworth bill and the White House hasn't given it official nod to the measure. It may not go through but whether this one does or doesn't, Johnny, you'll get your gun. Unless, of course, a Spitfire should squat in the lap of Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin & Co. (the & Co. being mostly Japan's war party)... in which event I guess, Johnny, we could just go on about our business.

Here's looking down on the Indiana town of Elwood as it prepares for the biggest day in its history, Saturday, Aug. 17, when native Wendell Willkie returns to accept the Republican nomination for President. Willkie will make his acceptance at Callaway Park on the outskirts, after greeting friends from the steps of the high school. Anderson Street is the main route to the park.

CAPITAL GOSSIP

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The Washington scene has changed more rapidly since the Chicago convention than in any similar period since the New Deal took over in 1933.

Three administration veterans, wheel horses in the Democratic party who have been around here some time, have departed. There is some possibility that a fourth will follow. It'll never be the same Washington without "Big Jim" Farley, "Cactus Jack" Garner, "Lou" Johnson, nor without Paul McNutt, if he goes home too, as some of his friends say he will.

Most missed perhaps will be Farley, the big genial fellow who came down with "The Boss" in 1933, parked at the Postmaster General's desk and for seven years gave all he had to the twin jobs of seeing that the mail went through and keeping the Democratic party machinery running smoothly.

Farley will be hard to replace. Target of all the abuse of Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats, he stood the potshots without a whimper.

Garner Career Over?

FARLEY's split with the President over the third term was merely the final straw. The breach in the relations had been widening for a couple of years as President Roosevelt turned more and more to the inner circle New Dealers and less to his old campaign manager with his confidences and plans.

Nobody who was with Farley in those closing days of the convention could fail to see how deeply hurt he was that he had been brushed aside as the group that had its nucleus in Harry Hopkins, Senators "Jimmy" Byrnes and Alben Barkley took over.

Farley might have quit the government anyway to repair his personal fortunes, but he would rather have done it under different circumstances and with less misgivings for the future of the Democratic party to which he has been so devoted.

When Vice President John

Nance Garner departed for Uvalde, Texas, the other day, it was a grim, tearful little knot of friends who saw him and Mrs. Garner off at the station.

It was no secret that Garner was embittered by the "third term." His friends say that he may never return to Washington, but whether he does or doesn't, it probably is the end of his long political career, as I pointed out here some months back.

With Louis Johnson, the 200-pound, machine-gun talking lawyer from Clarksburg, W. Va., who threw Army defense measures into high gear, as Under Secretary of War, it was not a question of the "third term." But he was the victim of changing politics that put Republican Henry L. Stimson in as Secretary of War. It was no secret that Johnson felt he was due the Secretary of War post.

When he didn't get it and was not rewarded at Chicago by a nod from the President that might have made him Roosevelt's running mate, he too departed. President Roosevelt has offered him the job of executive assistant in charge of the national defense drive, but his friends here express doubt that he will accept.

McNUTT's position is more complicated. An original third-termist, his disappointment came when the President didn't throw the Vice-Presidency wide open.

The question now is whether McNutt's withdrawal in behalf of Henry Wallace will be rewarded. He is high up on the list of those mentioned for Farley's two jobs but the inner circle New Dealers have kept him at arm's length ever since he has been here.

Sheffield News

NEW LIGHTS

Street lights, a minus quantity all these years on the side streets in the west end of town, finally have made an appearance in that section, having recently been installed on First, Second, Hall and Miller streets and on Tionesta as far as the Foulkrod street intersection. This much needed improvement, brought about through the concerted action of the property owners of the newly-lighted section, is a most welcome one.

CLUB MEETS

Announcement was made at the regular meeting of the Sheffield Rod and Gun Club Thursday evening in American Legion Home that the organization now is a corporation, the county court recently having approved and accepted the club's application to exist henceforth as a Pennsylvania non-profit incorporated organization. The articles of incorporation permit the club to sell stock to raise funds with which to build a clubhouse, and it is expected that the stock will be placed on sale within the next week or two.

There were about 40 members and guests present at the meeting, which was conducted by A. K. Daniels, club president. Much of the meeting was given over to a discussion of the recent destruction of fish life in Tionesta Creek. Individual testimony about the episode was heard and a course of action on the matter was planned and adopted.

SCOUTS IN CAMP

SIDE SLIPS

(By Spin Inn)

Maybe you haven't missed our weekly column in the paper, but we have missed writing to you. Here we go with more news from the Warren Airport.

Slip King sold his 40 horsepower Club to three young fellows from Johnsonburg. They have been taking lessons from Slip, but just recently have taken the plane to a port nearer home.

Everyone is awaiting the arrival of Slip's new plane, which is due on August 8th. It is a 65 Cub. All you flyers come down and get checked out the first day. It will be a great thrill to handle a new plane.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schuler are back from a pleasant trip to New Haven, Conn., where they visited relatives. If you know Fred, perhaps he will show you the beautiful colored pictures that he and his wife took. They include various airports at which they stopped, lovely pictures of New York, the harbor and also pictures taken on foot at the fair.

Evelyn Dickie, of Long Beach, Cal., sister of Mrs. Schuler, took part in the airport activities while here. She attended our ground school and became so interested that she put in about seven hours of flight instruction from Slip.

Mrs. Helen Walker is now at the Pittsburgh-Butler Airport taking a refresher course. We all wish her the best of luck and hope she returns with an instructor's rating. Warren already boasts two instructors, Slip King and Mushy Mathis, but a third will do no harm.

Mushy Mathis is also a ground school instructor and we really learn our rules from him. There are so many air-minded people attending ground school that it is being held in the Trinity Memorial parish house. The Civilian Pilot Training program is away to a good start. The first lesson was the History of Aviation, which proved to be interesting. You will find the more you learn, the more interesting classes will become. Why don't you CPTP's think up some good questions and try to stick Mushy?

Mrs. Elmer Pickett, from Buffalo, N. Y., visiting at the home of Mrs. Elsie Culbertson, enjoyed her first plane ride in some of our roughest weather. She stated it was one of her most thrilling experiences.

Visitors must like the hospitality of the airport for they always keep coming and we think "the more the merrier." Here are some recent visitors:

Richard Gamble and S. K. Wyatt flew from Meadville in a Cub. They had nothing definite in mind. Just flew up for the ride. Mr. Wyatt is Fred Schuler's brother-in-law. Perhaps that accounts for his interest in aviation.

J. L. Morley, from Washington, D. C., brought in a passenger from Pittsburgh. He was flying an A 17 Northrup. It's an army attack ship. No doubt that was the plane that woke you up with a jolt.

Earl Gillen and P. Bertren flew all the way from Lock Haven to attend a reunion at Kinzua. D. A. Furlong dropped in long enough to say "Hello" on his way to Clarion.

J. Lockman from Pittsburgh flew here in an Aeronaca C-3. It's a small two-cylinder job. That seems like an interesting plane and I had to miss it.

That's all the news I know for the present. I'll be seeing everyone at ground school. That is—I hope everyone turns out.

WARREN COUNTY RELIEF LOAD IS ON THE DECLINE

Despite the fact that Pennsylvania's direct relief load showed an increase, the number of public assistance cases in Warren county registered a net decrease of six cases during the week ending July 27, according to information received today from Howard L. Russell, state secretary of public assistance.

The decrease in the county brought the total relief load down to 227 cases, representing 753 persons. The decrease was the result of opening eight cases and closing 14.

Of the cases opened, two lost private employment, one lost WPA employment and five were opened for miscellaneous reasons. Of the cases closed, eight received private employment, one received WPA employment, one was given unemployment compensation and four were closed for various other reasons.

Cost of relief in the county during the week was $1,224.38.

In the state there was a net increase of 1,360 cases, bringing the total to 168,882 cases (496,643 persons). Cost of relief in the state during the week was $1,152,729.01.

Following are the figures for some nearby counties:

Clarion—Cases, 334; increase, 6; cost, $2,054.87.
Crawford—Cases, 541; increase, 2; cost, $3,035.41.
Elk—Cases, 281; no change; cost, $1,696.76.
Erie—Cases, 1,967; increase, 30; cost, $12,268.75.
McKean—Cases, 393; increase, 14; cost, $2,310.39.
Venango—Cases, 875; increase, 8; cost, $5,894.34.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Here in the witty east, where jokes are almost never new, but where they sometimes do have timely twists, Frankie Masters takes time out from directing his band to tell of the little shop he passed up in Harlem. Undoubtedly the proprietor of this shop was a movie fan, as you shall see.

When Frankie passed the shop he observed a window card which listed the more appetizing of the shop's wares. The first item, for instance, said "Swiss Cheese, 24c." The second said "Skinless and Boneless Sardines, 19c." The third said "Georgia Melons, 50c." The fourth said "Turkey Sandwich, 30c."

Down at the bottom of the card was lettered:

"All This, and Herring Too."

THEN there's the one about the three cross-eyed prisoners and the cross-eyed judge which makes Eddy Duchin laugh more than any other. The three prisoners were lined up before the judge.

"What's your name?" demanded the judge of the first prisoner. The 2nd prisoner said, "Smith."

"What's talking to you?" boomed the judge.

The 3rd prisoner replied, "I never said a word."

AFTER sitting in on the "Lunch on the Walcott" program the other day we shared a late snack with like Chase, and sure enough she had one too. A funny story, I mean. The one I like to tell is about the WPA worker who opened his weekly salary envelope and found that his check was one cent short. He had received $14.99 instead of the customary $15. This burned him up, and after delivering a tirade against the government in particular and the world in general, he sat down and batted out a sizzling letter to FDR. Presently one of the President's secretaries received the letter, and he was so stunned by its contents that he showed it to the President.

"Have Mr. Morgenthau send this man a check," Mr. Roosevelt suggested.

Several days later the WPA worker was delighted to find in his mailbox a check for 1c from the United States government. Why, this wasn't such a bad world after all, he thought, hurrying to the bank.

When he arrived he tossed the check to the teller. "How about cashing this?" he blustered.

The teller glanced at the check, glanced back at the WPA worker, and without batting an eye said, "How do you want it—heads or tails?"

PRESENT also at this confab was Joan Blaine, the radio actress, who said she didn't know any jokes but that she had had a funny experience with a "deaf and dumb" man that afternoon.

"What was that?" we wanted to know.

Well, she said, she always had been interested in the sign language used by people who had lost their senses of hearing and speech. She had even gone to the trouble of learning the sign language. That was when she was a teacher in a Colorado mining camp.

During the afternoon she was approached on 6th avenue by a man who presented her with a card which said he could neither speak nor hear, and could she help him. On impulse Joan began talking with him in the language of the deaf and dumb.

But the man didn't get it. Suddenly she said, "That your dollar on the sidewalk?"

QUALITY FOODS DAY AND NIGHT AT TEXAS LUNCH

Day or night—for the doors are always open—you'll get quality food at the Texas Lunch, located at 214 Penna. Ave., W. in Warren, a popular eating establishment with young and old.

Quality, cleanliness and service is the motto of the management and this policy has resulted in increased patronage from all over this section.

Weiners and hamburgers are specialized in and who doesn't like these typical American specialties? Well, you'll find them at their best at the Texas Lunch—and you'll want to eat more than one because they are tasty, wholesome and pleasing to the palate.

Every effort is made to observe cleanliness 100 per cent at this eating establishment. A visit to the kitchen, which you are invited to make at any time, will show you how the food is handled and prepared before it is served, and you will be amazed to note everything is as clean as the cleanest kitchen in Warren in spite of the large quantities of food handled day in and day out.

Quick, courteous service is the watchword. You need not eat in a hurry but the Texas Lunch feels you should be served as quickly as possible in case you must hurry back to the office or for some business engagement.

Booths and counter service is offered and you'll find it an ideal eating place to take the entire family for no matter what you may think of in the line of food you'll find it at the Texas Lunch, 214 Penna. Ave., W.

FLOOR SHOW AT INN DRAWS BIG CROWD NIGHTLY

Warren is to be congratulated on having the White House Inn where sensational floor shows are being presented right along and where you can take those visiting friends and relatives for a little relaxation on these warm summer nights.

These always find good, clean entertainment at this popular night spot and the finest talent possible in the way of good orchestra music and entertainers.

Above all, too, you aren't paying big prices for the menu on either food or mixed drinks will disclose to you how reasonably you can take your girl friend or guest to the White House Inn, spend a few happy hours and come away without your pocketbook being flattened.

Everyone likes to get away from the routine of business, especially on warm summer nights, for a little enjoyment and relaxation and the management of the White House Inn seeks to provide a place for people like that where they can sit and listen to the strains of popular orchestra music, plus floor show entertainment, good food and good drinks.

If you are in the minority of Warren people who haven't visited the White House Inn as yet then you are missing a treat and once you've spent an evening there you'll want to return again and again.

Why not take the family out for a change, too? They'll all enjoy it—and you can spend an evening as reasonably as you can doing almost anything else.

The White House Inn management welcomes suggestions and seeks to give you a keen sense of enjoyment when you pay them a visit.

Ceremony In Grove City College Chapel Unites Mary M. Anderson, Lyle G. Knapp

Harbison Chapel, Grove City College campus, was the scene of a lovely wedding at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, uniting Miss Mary M. Anderson and Lyle G.
Knapp, both of Warren.

The bride, commercial teacher in Warren High School, is the daughter of Mrs. H. L. R. Anderson, of Grove City, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S.
Knapp, 110 Jackson avenue, Warren.

The bride's uncle, Dr. W. M.
Barry, of Pleasant Valley, N. Y., performed the ceremony, assisted by Dr. Homer B. Henderson, of the Grove City United Presbyterian church.

Palms and ferns were banked at the back of the altar and candelabra decorated the altar and chancel. Pewes occupied by the families were indicated by bouquets of white lilies, and white ribbon formed an aisle for the bride. Prof.
Stanley J. Seiple, Grove City College organist, played a 20-minute recital prior to the ceremony.

Escorted by her brother, Harlan LeRoy Anderson, of Oil City, the bride was attractive in ivory satin with sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, very full skirt and long train. Her long pearl veil was held with a tiara of seed pearls and her bouquet was of white orchids.

Mrs. R. Heath Larry, of Mt.
Lebanon, as maid of honor, wore hazelnut blue net with puffed sleeves, sweetheart neckline, tight bodice and full skirt. Bridesmaids, sisters of the bride and bridegroom, were Miss Guinevere Knapp, of Warren, and Miss Eleanor Jane Anderson, of Grove City. They wore yellow and pale peach net frocks similar to Mrs. Larry's, and small net hats decorated with fresh flowers. Each carried a colonial bouquet, as did the flower girls, Nancy and Debby Axtell, of Hastings-on-Hudson, cousins of the bride, who wore pink net Kate Greenaway dresses and poke bon-nets.

The bride's mother wore rose beige chiffon, with matching crepe hair and rose orchids. Mrs. Knapp wore misty gray chiffon, gray straw hat and purple orchids.

Lee Martin Schaeffer, of Warren, was Mr. Knapp's best man and ushers were Carroll Anderson, cousin of the bride, from Mercer, with Robert Sandblade and Harry Clepper, of Warren.

Relatives and a few friends were invited to a reception at the Penn Grove Hotel. The bride's cake, topped with a wedding bell and flanked by two low bowls of white flowers, White roses centered the small tables, where were seated guests from Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Sharon, Mercer, Youngstown, New Willmington, Beaver, Beaver Falls, Ti-nsville, Pleasant Valley and Hastings-on-Hudson.

These included Mr. and Mrs. J.
C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Knapp and Ernest Knapp, Titusville, Mrs. George Wholen, Miss Maryann Brugger, Mr. and Mrs.
Kermit Forsgren, Mr. and Mrs. S.
Montgomery McClure, Miss Evelyn
McMichael, Dr. E. R. Anderson,
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young, Mr.
and Mrs. J. B. Leidig, Paul Gary, Miss Cecelia Burch, Miss Edith Berkman, Miss Frances Ekey,
Miss Clementine Weaver, Miss
Claire Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Mott, Mrs. Harry Chappell and Mrs.
Martin Schaeffer, Warren; Mrs.
Hert Maasz, Mrs. A. N. Stillings and Mrs. A. S. Day, Youngs-ville.

Following a wedding trip to the New England states and Canada,
the couple will return to Warren,
to be at home after August 12, 17, Elm street. For traveling, the bride chose a magnolia white redingote with mauve accessories.
Mrs. Knapp is a graduate of Grove City high school and college and a member of Gamma Chi Sorority. Mr. Knapp, alumnus of the Warren High School and Hoff's Business College, is employed by the Pennsylvania Gas Company.

Pre-nuptial parties for the bride have been given in Warren by Mrs. Knapp and daughter, Miss Guinevere; Mrs. S. M. McClure; also a miscellaneous shower by Mrs. Herbert Maasz, of Youngs-ville, and Miss Maryann Brugger, of Warren; Miss Lillian Tampion, a shower by Mrs. Herman Dight in Beaver; line shower by Mrs. Robert Campbell, of Johnstown, at the home of her parents in Grove City; Mrs. Larry, of Mt. Lebanon, at home in Pittsburgh; Mrs. Edward Ernst, at her Grove City home; Miss Martha McKinley, Miss Lois Gills and Mrs. John Murray, at the Penn Grove Hotel in that city.

McKenney Spins a Few Bridge Yarns

Bridge, like every other game, has its favorite stories.
You'll hear them retold at tournaments, parties, everywhere bridge is played. William E. McKenney, Times-Mirror bridge authority, brings a new series of six swell yarns about hands that will be discussed for years to come. How could a man go down seven and still make a top score?
Well—that's McKenney's story for next Saturday, August 10.

Class Of 1929 Establishes Tradition With Holding of Its 11th Annual Reunion on Sat.

Special Events For Y. W. C. A. Members

Mrs. J. H. West, general secretary of the local Y. W. C. A., announced that the 11th annual reunion of the class of 1929 will be held at Chautauqua Institution within a short time.

The first is YWCA Day on Friday of this week, when Miss Julia Matouskova, former secretary in Czechoslovakia, will speak at 8:15
p. m. in the amphitheatre on "Women in a Totalitarian State".

It will be possible to meet her, also, at the reception to be held in the YW Hospitality House on the afternoon of the same day.

The second event is a luncheon to be given in Alumni Hall on August 12, when Miss Ruth Rouse, president of the World's Council of the Y. W. C. A., will be the guest of honor and will speak on "The Y. W. C. A. in Europe".
Reservations must be in no later than August 9.

All local members interested are asked to call the association offices, 450 or 1636.

Shower Party Given Mrs. William York

Mrs. Harold Dietsch entertained 33 friends Friday evening at the Drum cottage on the Allegheny river with a miscellaneous shower party honoring her daughter, Mrs.
William York, the former Mary Jane Dietsch.

Mrs. York received many lovely and useful gifts for her new home.
Table appointments were carried out in pink and white and a floral centerpiece was formed of pink larkspur and white baby's breath.

Mrs. F. H. York and Mrs. John Dietsch presided. Aides assisting the hostess were Mrs. Marvin Wilkins, Mrs. Clarence Agren and Mrs. Thomas Poy.

The Misses Norma Johnson and Carolyn York, with Mrs. F. H.
York, of Youngville, with the Yorks' guests, Mrs. Harold Wade, of Cleveland, O., and Mrs. Raymond Tierney, of Chicago, Ill., were out of town guests.

King Farouk of Egypt owns the oldest royal yacht in the world.
Built in 1865 at Poplar, it has been reconconditioned so that it can exceed a speed of 16 knots.

A delightful party was held at the Y. W. C. A. activities building Saturday evening in the form of the 11th annual reunion of the Warren High School Class of 1929.
Dinner was served at seven o'clock to 27 members and guests, with Miss Emily Eaton giving the invocation. Group singing was led by Miss Millicent Kopp, with Mrs.
Gerhardt Jacobson at the piano.

The class prophecy from the 1929 Dragon, written by Miss Jeanne Barwis, was read by Miss Bertha Frating and a copy of a class directory compiled by the committee was presented to each person. Mrs. Jacobson played two piano numbers, compositions of Miss Anna Greenlund, a class member.

A review of the 1929 Dragon was given by Mary Jane Nichols Hubbard, who was its editor in chief. She was presented a cake as the most recent bride of the class in attendance.

A business session was conducted by the president, Nelson A.
Johnson, who appointed the following committee for the 12th reunion: Miss Emily Eaton, chairman; Mrs. Christabel Fitzgerald and Kathryn Gustafson. In the event there is no 12th reunion, Miss Frating will head the committee for the 15th anniversary.

Mention was made that this class is very proud of its record of having held eleven annual reunions, the only class from the high school to establish such a mark. A resolution to that effect was passed and the unanswered challenge issued to the class of 1939 was recalled. Mr. Johnson spoke of the great benefits members derive from such gatherings and deplored the fact that so few of them are held.

The committee in charge of this year's function was composed of Charles Cable, Mrs. Cable, Mr. and Mrs. William Culbertson and Charles DeForest.

Members and guests from out of town were Clarence Acks, Cleveland, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dietsch, Williamsport, N. Y.; Ange
Bevevino, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Cole, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs.
Donald Taft, South Williamsport;
Willard Gibson, Baltimore, Md.;
Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lindquist, Warren, O.

Sixth Week At Chautauqua One Of Busiest Of 67th Season; Many Splendid Attractions

Old First Night, a ministerial conference, the annual tennis tournament, Optometric Day, Y.
W. C. A. Day and the regional choral festival are outstanding events in the most active week of Chautauqua's 67th session.

Presentations of the opera
"Faust" and "The Devil and Daniel Webster" by Douglas Moore will be heard in Norton Memorial Hall, as will Alec Coppel's play
"I Killed the Count" and Clifford Goldsmith's "What a Life".

At 8:15 this evening, Charles Kullman, Metropolitan Opera star, will sing the title role in "Faust".
Tuesday is Old First Night, with exercises beginning at 7:15 in the auditorium and a full variety program dedicated to the past and the present of Chautauqua.

Optometrists will hear their chief speaker at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when Dr. Ewing Adams, first vice president of the American Optometric Association, addresses the gathering in the amphitheatre.

At five o'clock, the symphony orchestra will present the second in a series of Wednesday Bach-Mozart programs. Optometrists will have a dinner at 5:30, and convene at seven in Smith-Wiles Hall for a demonstration of optometric techniques. The 8:15 o'clock concert by the orchestra will have John Gurney, Metropolitan baritone and Jamestown native, as the soloist.

Thursday's two highlights come at 8:15, when Dr. Edward Howard Gribbs lectures in the amplitheatre on "Woodrow Wilson and Democracy in International Relations", and the theatre players present the Coppel murder mystery "I Killed the Count".

Y. W. C. A. Day will be observed on Friday, with the chief address at 8:15 by Miss Julia Mat-ouskova, former general secretary of Czechoslovakian Y. W.

At 3:15 the Chautauqua Woman's Club will hear Mrs. Vincent Hilles Ober, president of the National Federation of Music Clubs.
At 8:15, the opera association presents "The Devil and Daniel Webster", to be followed by a dance recital by Winona Bimboni and assisting artists.

The choral festival Saturday is an event which brings together groups from Jamestown, Erie, Warren and Youngstown, O., Greenville and Salamanca. At eleven o'clock, the young people's symphony concert will be broadcast over WPA and associated stations.

Charles LeSueur will conduct the Women's Chorus of Erie and soloists in a program in the amplitheatre at two o'clock and, at 8:15, while the players are giving "What a Life" in Norton Hall, the combined choir will give a program in the amphitheatre. Numbers to be sung by this great group will include Howells' "Magnificat", Rossini's "Stabat Mater" and "Onward Ye Peoples" by Jan Sibelius.

Ceremony In Grove City College Chapel Unites Mary M. Anderson, Lyle G. Knapp

Harbison Chapel, Grove City College campus, was the scene of a lovely wedding at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, uniting Miss Mary M. Anderson and Lyle G. Knapp, both of Warren.

The bride, commercial teacher in Warren High School, is the daughter of Mrs. H. L. R. Anderson, of Grove City, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Knapp, 110 Jackson avenue, Warren.

The bride's uncle, Dr. W. M. Barr, of Pleasant Valley, N. Y., performed the ceremony, assisted by Dr. Homer B. Henderson, of the Grove City United Presbyterian church.

Palms and ferns were banked at the back of the altar and candelabra decorated the altar and chancel. Pews occupied by the families were indicated by bouquets of white lilies, and white ribbon formed an aisle for the bride. Prof. Stanley J. Seiple, Grove City College organist, played a 30-minute recital prior to the ceremony.

Escorted by her brother, Harlan LeRoy Anderson, of Oil City, the bride wore a tulle gown with a wide, white, ruffled collar, bodice, very full skirt and long train. Her long tulle veil was held with a tiara of seed pearls and her bouquet was of white orchids.

Mrs. R. Heath Larry, of Mt. Lebanon, as maid of honor, wore a blue net with puffed sleeves, sweetheart neckline, tight bodice and full skirt. Bridesmaids, sisters of the bride and bridegroom, were Miss Guinevere Knapp, of Warren, and Miss Eleanor Jane Anderson, of Grove City. They wore yellow and pale peach net frocks similar to Mrs. Larry's, and small net hats decorated with fresh flowers. Each carried a colonial bouquet, as did the flower girls, Nancy and Debby Axtell, of Hastings-on-the-Hudson, cousins of the bride, who wore pink net Kate Greenaway dresses and poke bonnets.

The bride's mother wore rose beige chiffon, with matching crepe hat and rose orchids. Mrs. Knapp wore misty gray chiffon, gray straw hat and purple orchids. Lee Martin Schaeffer, of Warren, was Mrs. Knapp's best man and ushers were Carroll Anderson, cousin of the bride, from Mercer, with Robert Sandblade and Pre-nuptial parties for the bride have been given in Warren by Mrs. Knapp and daughter, Miss Guinevere; Mrs. S. M. McCleure, also a miscellaneous shower by Mrs. Herbert Maasz, of Youngsville, and Miss Maryann Brigger, of Warren; Miss Lillian Tamplin, a luncheon in Sharon; miscellaneous shower by Mrs. Herman Dight in Beaver; linen shower by Mrs. Robert Campbell, of Johnstown, at the home of her parents in Grove City; Mrs. Larry, of Mt. Lebanon, at home in Pittsburgh; Mrs. Edward Ernst, at her Grove City home; Miss Martha McKinley, Miss Lois Gills and Mrs. John Murray, at the Penn Grove Hotel in that city.

Sixth Week At Chautauqua One Of Busiest Of 67th Season; Many Splendid Attractions

Old First Night, a ministerial conference, the annual tennis tournament, Optometric Day, Y. W. C. A. Day and the regional choral festival are outstanding events in the most active week of Chautauqua's 67th season.

Presentations of the opera "Faust" and "The Devil and Daniel Webster" by Douglas Moore will be heard in Norton Memorial Hall, as will Alec Coppell's play "I Killed the Count" and Clifford Goldsmith's "What a Life".

At 8:15 this evening, Charles Kullman, Metropolitan Opera star, will sing the title role in "Faust". Tuesday is Old First Night, with exercises beginning at 7:15 in the auditorium and a full variety program dedicated to the past and the present of Chautauqua.

Optometrists will hear their chief speaker at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when Dr. Ewing Adams, first vice president of the American Optometric Association, addresses the gathering in the amphitheatre.

At five o'clock, the symphony orchestra will present the second in a series of Wednesday Bach-Mozart programs. Optometrists will have a dinner at 5:30 and convene at seven in Smith-Wilkes Hall for a demonstration of optometric techniques. ## Grayson's SCOREBOARD

Detroit Badly in Need of a Reserve Infielder, So Front Office Answers Pilot Del Baker's Cry For Help by Purchasing Discarded Outfielder

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

FRONT offices continue to stump baseball men, and that of the Detroit club presents the latest puzzle.

With the perennial schoolboy, Lynwood Rowe, again a pitching hero, the infield is the Tigers' only problem.

Never has there been a more obvious need for a reserve infielder. Five men give Detroit the mightiest outfield in baseball.

So what does the front office do, with the outfit requiring just a little added push to win the American League pennant, but buy an outfielder from Montreal.

Detroit's infield is the oldest and slowest in the majors.

Run-making hits trickling through it—rollers that easily might be cut off by younger and more agile players—is Delmar Baker's principal cause for concern.

DICK BARTELL and Pinky Higgins already have been forced to the sidelines.

There is no telling how long the venerable Charley Gehring's legs and back will stand up.

Red Kress filled in well enough for Bartell and Higgins, but he has slowed up to such an extent that he's fortunate to be in the big show and is batting only .250. Frank Croucher, the only other extra infielder, plainly is unsatisfactory. He hasn't hit his weight—125 to be exact.

Detroit has plenty of power.

DETROIT has only two fast men, Barney McCosky and Pete Fox. Both are outfielders. McCosky, invaluable in center field, is one of the circuit's three top hitters at the moment with .353. Fox is batting .317. Hank Greenberg, the other regular flycatcher, is one of the great long-distance right-hand hitters and has an average of .306. Backing up this trio are the capable left-hand batters, Bruce Campbell and Earl Averil.

The outfield has proved itself good enough to finish in front.

The infield will be extremely fortunate to wind up in one piece.

So the Detroit front office purchases Tuck Stainback, an outfielder discarded by four National League clubs, including the Phillies.

You figure it out.

Staging a two-run rally in the ninth frame, the National League Saturday overcame a one-run deficit with which they had been saddled since the opening frame and lashed the Akron Goodyears, 2-1, in one of the best games played at Wilder Field this season.

Rosequist led off with a double into the trees in right field. Fred Gagliardi, pinch-hitting for Morrison, stroled and Mack, batting for Hajnik, singled to center to put Rosequist on the rubber with the tying run. Cusimano hit for Joe Massa and lined to center field. Forsky making a sensational play catch, Giegerich grounded out to first. Gagliardi scoring on the play to end the ball game.

Until the ninth it had been a nice hurling duel between Bement and "Pinky" Caffrey, the latter replacing Kulick in the third inning and allowing only one hit for the rest of the ball game. Until the final canto, the Forgers had had only four off Bement.

Kulick's wildness led to the Akron run. McNenny and Harwell walked and Rush's hit filled the bases. McNenny scoring on McEbride's infield single. The next three hitters popped up to the infield.

Harry Rosequist, with a single, and a double was the leading Forger hitter. McEbride and Bement paced the losers with a pair of one-basers. Les James straddled the bases for the only extra-base hit of the ball game.

Tonight the Forgers are at Vandalia where they meet Ford City in the semi-final of the state semi-pro tournament. The winner of today's contest plays undefeated Natrona for the state championship.

Boston, Aug. 5.—(P.)—The body of Willard Hershberger, 29, Cincinnati Reds baseball club second-string catcher, who took his own life Saturday, headed homeward by express train today to his widowed mother in California.

Sent from Boston yesterday while the Reds were splitting a double-header with the Boston Bees, the body was expected to reach Visalia, Calif., Wednesday night.

Hershberger, his throat slashed by a razor, was found dead in a hotel room. Team-mates said he had been depressed because the club had lost recent games in which he played.

Dr. Timothy Leary, medical examiner, gave a suicide verdict.

Bill McKee, Cincinnati manager, stated today that Hershberger was particularly worked up over the 5-4 loss to New York Wednesday night. He told the pilot he thought he had called for the wrong pitches.

Hershberger played with the Erie Sailors in the Central League in 1932 and was one of the most popular players ever to wear an Erie uniform. He also did double duty in the infield and outfield, playing in 94 games and batting .330.

His popularity with fans followed him in minor and major leagues. With Cincinnati, he was termed "the best second-string catcher in baseball."

Red Jacket fans will be interested to learn that "Whitey" Fowle, who helped draw thousands to Russell Field whenever the Jackets met the St. Rosalia Preps, has graduated from semi-pro ball and this year will play for the Pittsburgh Steelers in the National Professional Football League.

In securing Fowle, the Steelers clinched a two-year quest after the 24-year-old independent star, who, although he never attended college, developed such amazing form and finesse with the Preps that Rooney and his staff were convinced that he stood a great chance of attaining professional grid brilliance. Fowle is one of the few sandlot players who ever has graduated to the major leagues without benefit of intercollegiate competition to season his play.

Authoritative Pittsburgh district sports observers, however, are inclined to belittle Rooney's gamble. Most of them agree with the Steelers' prey that Fowle is as good right now as he is most gridders at the time of their entrance into professional football and has greater potentialities by far than do most rookies. "Whitey" is generally recognized as the best performer to show on Greater Pittsburgh sandlots since the late Mose Kelsch. "Butch" Eamon, Dan Rooney and President Art, himself. Incidentally, Kelsch was the first sandlotter (and the last until Fowle) in the section to bridge the gap between the sandlots and the big money gridiron. Kelsch rose to stardom in the pro ranks on his ability to boot field goals and his plunging power from the full-back spot.

From our vantage point in the combined press box and public address booth, we would pick Fowle as easily one of the best performers ever to show against Warren semi-pro teams. He was the sparkplug in the Preps' offense that gave them a 21-14 decision over the Jackets last fall, doing the passing, punting and the major share of the ground work. "Whitey" stands six feet, one and tips the beam at 190 pounds. He is a runner of the smashing type and gives a pass with deadly accuracy. Should he live up to hopes of the Steeler scouts and officials, Red Jacket seems to have no doubt that he will, the Pittsburgh club will have come up with the surprise of the 1940 National League season. But then, surprises are nothing new with Rooney.

A great many local fans will trek to Erie on the evening of Friday, August 30, where Fowle will appear with the Steelers against the Chicago Bears. The two teams, who do not meet in a regularly scheduled league contest this season, give the Lake City its first taste of National League grid-gruel since 1937, when the Bears played the Warren Red Jackets in the stadium. The game, which is for the benefit of the St. Vincent DePaul Society of the Erie Diocese, will be a proving ground for both teams, since it will give the coaches an opportunity to correct the flaws in their units before the serious business of league competition begins. There is a tendency in exhibition affairs to "shoot works", and from the spectators' point of view the game should be an interesting one to watch.

New York, Aug. 5.—(P.)—Snooperade: Watch Warren Wright's whirlaway in Hopeful Stakes at Saratoga. The way he made up 10 lengths in the U. S. Hotel Stakes Saturday was something. . . . Brooklyn's single game attendance record (40,000) may be bettered tonight when those durn Jints move into Ebbets Field. . . . The A. P.'s sweat singin' Eddy Gilmore of the Wash. D. C. Staff, is a proud pappy. . . . They're calling the Bees' decisions over the Reds the biggest upsets in Boston since the Minute Men downed the Red Coats. . . . Are those uncompromising pictures of Alice Marble a result of a feud between the photo-togs and the queen? . . . Gene Ward, the NY Daily News' flashy-dressed tennis writer, forgot his pass at Southampton and tried to pass as a fan. "You're an imposter," screamed the attendant. "Sports writers don't dress that way." P. S. Gene had to buy a $2.50 ticket to cover the semi-finals!

Personalities: The kid duo of Ted Schroeder and Jack Kramer looked like a cinch for the No. 1 national doubles ranking. . . . ## HAGEN IN FAVOR OF RYDER CUP-AMATEUR MATCH Brooklyn Helps Reds By Refusing To Take Advantage Of Slump

Milwaukee, Aug. 5.—(P.) Mr. Golf himself, Walter Hagen, came out flatly today with an enthusiastic endorsement of the plan to send his Ryder Cup professional against the 10 best amateurs in the land—but he insisted that the amateur team named for this suggested charity match be named by the United States Golf Association.

"I think the idea of a Ryder cup amateur battle is great," said Hagen, perennial captain of the Ryder Cup forces.

In view of the cancellation of the international Ryder Cup matches and the Walker Cup matches which were to have been played this month—I think a professional-amateur duel would do much toward keeping alive the idea of international competition. But the amateur team, to give it real authority, should be named by the U. S. G. A. and not simply the selection of any amateur star or other individuals."

The U. S. G. A. declined to name a Walker Cup team for this year because the international matches were cancelled. The Professional Golfers' Association, however, named its Ryder Cup aggregation which already has appeared in charity matches at Hollywood, Calif., Dallas, Texas, and Detroit.

For the sake of old case Steagel's thinning hair, it's a good thing the Cincinnati Reds are still in the National League.

And, for the sake of those world series bubbles currently being inflated in the Rhineland, it's quite fortunate for the Reds that misfortunes have been dogging the Brooklyn Dodgers misfortunes like the "heating" of Ducky Medwick back in mid-June, which finally has led to the benching of the muscles man for weak hitting.

On the one hand, there's old Casey tearing his hair out in bunches at the awful ways of his Boston Bees against the other clubs in the National League, who to paste it back on again whenever his club tangles with the Reds.

On the other hand, you have the Reds, who came east July 23 with a five-game lead in the National League, dropped eight of 16 starts, and are now on the way home with a 3-2 game lead over the second place Dodgers. This is largely because the Brooklyn could only win six while losing nine to the western invaders.

Old Casey is only sorry the Reds' Boston stay wasn't longer than the three double-header program over the week-end. In that time, his Bees not only took four of six, including a split in yesterday's finale, but climbed out of the loop.

The Bees, who show an edge over only the Phillies in the season series with the other clubs, belted Bucky Walters 5-3 in the opener yesterday for Bucky's third straight defeat, and forced the Reds to go all out to take the nightcap 12-9.

Since the Phillies lost two to the last-moving Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-1 and 6-4, the Bees' split dropped the Phils into the cellar.

Truett Sewell tossed a four-hitter at the futile Phils in the opener and the Bees banged out 15 hits in the nightcap.

The Dodgers didn't have a chance against the Cubs in their opener and dropped it 11-3, as Gabby Hartnett's laughing boys rang the bell for a season high with a 21-hit attack. This cracked Fal Peadar Fitzsimmons' five-game winning streak and handed him his second setback of the season. The Cubs kept right on proving in the afterpiece and shot six runs across in the first three frames. But the Dodgers tied it up on Pee-Wee Reese's ninth-inning homer and won out 7-6 in the 11th when Dolph Camlin counted one over the right field fence.

In this second game, Medwick, one of the generation's outstanding batsmen, was benched for slim at-batwork for perhaps the first time in his career.

The Cardinals wound up a high-flying eastern swing by splitting with the Giants, losing 3-2 and winning 6-3.

With the possible exception of Washington's Senators, the eastern half of the American League limped home today, glad the trip was all over. Only the Nats came through with an edge in the invasion and they had to knock off Jimmy Dykes' Chicago White Sox twice yesterday to do it. Dutch Leonard was carried ten innings before chalking up his fifth straight win over the Sox 4-3 in the opener. Ken Chase turned in the day's hurling masterpiece in the afterpiece, a three-hitter for a 1-0 decision.

ans to a 3-1 win over the Yanks yesterday.

This victory boosted the Tribe to within half-a-game of the league-leading Detroit Tigers, who fell victims to the ancient but still powerful pitching mastery of old Mose Grove, Mose helped himself to his third straight win with an eight-hitter for a 7-3 victory.

The Browns stayed out of the cellar by trimming the Athletics 5-1 on a three-home run attack, and 6-4 on Elden Auker's steady muling.

GILSON AND ROSE TRIUMPH FOR STATE

The Gardner-Swanson State Hospital combine, playing about as nice a brand of winning ball as any club in this section, added a pair of one-sided victories to their string over the weekend, clipping Ludlow, 6-1, at the Hospital on Saturday and Mayville 14-5 at Mayville yesterday.

Joe Gilson and Jim Rose were in top form in turning in the breezes to make the Hospital's winning column an impressive list.

A feature of the Sunday game was the veteran Myron Jewell's circuit clout.

ZIVIC 10-7 OVER LA SALLE TONIGHT

Pittsburg, Aug. 5.—(P.) Fritz Zivic, Pittsburgh's top welterweight, is a 10 to 7 favorite to whip Kenny La Salle, Texas-born boxer, now out of Elizabeth, N. J., in their third meeting over the 10-round route tonight. La Salle won his first battle with Zivic and lost the second only by a split decision. However, Zivic has been belting out his opponents in monotonous regularity since advent of 1940.

M'NAIR IS PLACED ON RETIRED LIST

Chicago, Aug. 5.—(P.)—Eric McNair, veteran infielder of the Chicago White Sox, was placed on the voluntary retired list today at his own request.

McNair, who slumped sharply this season after leading the club in hitting in 1939, said he planned to go to his home in Meridian, Miss., and rest until next spring.

BODY OF CINCY RECEIVER SENT TO CALIFORNIA

DOPED

Red Jacket fans will be interested to learn that "Whitey" Fowle, who helped draw thousands to Russell Field whenever the Jackets met the St. Rosalia Preps, has graduated from semi-pro ball and this year will play for the Pittsburgh Steelers in the National Professional Football League. In securing Fowle, the Steelers climaxed a two-year quest after the 24-year-old independent star, who, although he never attended college, developed such amazing form and finesse with the Preps that Rooney and his staff were convinced that he stood a great chance of attaining professional grid brilliance. Fowle is one of the few sandlot players who ever has graduated to the major leagues without benefit of intercollegiate competition to season his play.

Authoritative Pittsburgh district sports observers, however, are inclined to belittle Rooney's gamble. Most of them agree with the Steelers' proxy that Fowle is as good right now as are most gridgers at the time of their entrance into professional football and has greater potentialities by far than do most rookies. "Whitey" is generally recognized as the best performer to show on Greater Pittsburgh sandlots since the late Moose Kelsch, "Butch" Bannan, Dan Rooney and President Art himself. Incidentally, Kelsch was the first sandlotter (and the last until Fowle) in the section to bridge the gap between the sandlots and the big money gridiron. Kelsch rose to stardom in the pro ranks on his ability to boot field goals and his plunging power from the full-back spot.

From our vantage point in the combined press box and public address booth, we would pick Fowle as easily one of the best performers ever to show against Warren semi-pro teams. He was the sparkplug in the Preps' offense that gave them a 21-14 decision over the Jackets last fall, doing the passing, punting and the major share of the ground-work. "Whitey" stands six feet, one and tips the beam at 190 pounds. He is a runner of the smashing type and riffs a pass with deadly accuracy. Should he live up to hopes of the Steeler scouts and officials and Rooney seems to have no doubt that he will, the Pittsburgh club will have come up with the surprise of the 1940 National League season. But then, surprises are nothing new with Rooney.

A great many local fans will trek to Erie on the evening of Friday, August 30, where Fowle will appear with the Steelers against the Chicago Bears. The two teams, who do not meet in a regularly scheduled league contest this season, give the Lake City its first taste of National League grid-grud since 1937, when the Bears played the Warren Red Jackets in the stadium. The game, which is for the benefit of the St. Vincent DePaul Society of the Erie Diocese, will be a proving ground for both teams, since it will give the coaches an opportunity to correct the flaws in their units before the serious business of league competition begins. There is a tendency in exhibition affairs to "shoot the works", and from the spectators' point of view the game should be an interesting one to watch.

Springfield-Dick McKee, 19, Miami, Fla., University net ace, earned the Eastern States Men's Clay Court Tennis Championships with a 6-2, 5-7, 6-3, 6-4 victory over E. Victor Selxas, Philadelphia.

Langhorne-Henry Banks, Royal Oak, Mich., won the 200-mile stock car auto race at the Langhorne speedway. He was timed in 2 hours, 53.15 minutes.

Wilkes-Barre-Toby Lyons, Pittsburgh, captured the 12th annual Fox Hill amateur invitation golf tournament in an extended battle with Charles Whitehead, Plainfield, N. Y., 1 up on the 37th hole.

Indiantown Gap-Floyd T. Oswald, New Tripoli rural mail carrier, scored an aggregate of 2,392 points in seven events to win the Pennsylvania small bore rifle championship.

Oxford-Bob Keen, former basketball star at Ursinus College, was named basketball and track coach at Oxford High School.

HAGEN IN FAVOR OF RYDER CUP-AMATEUR MATCH

Milwaukee, Aug. 5.—(P)—Mr. Golf himself—Walter Hagen—came out flatly today with an enthusiastic endorsement of the plan to send his Ryder Cup professional against the 10 best amateurs in the land—but he insisted that the amateur team named for this suggested charity match be named by the United States Golf Association.

"I think the idea of a Ryder cup amateur battle is great," said Hagen, perennial captain of the Ryder Cup forces.

"In view of the cancellation of the international Ryder Cup matches and the Walker Cup matches, which were to have been played this month—I think a professional-amateur duel would do much toward keeping alive the idea of international competition. But the amateur team, to give it real authority, should be named by the U. S. G. A. and not simply be the selection of any amateur star or other individuals."

The U. S. G. A. declined to name a Walker Cup team for this year, because the international matches were cancelled. The Professional Golfers' Association, however, named its Ryder Cup aggregation which already has appeared in charity matches at Hollywood, Calif., Dallas, Texas, and Detroit.

Old Casey is only sorry the Reds' Boston stay won't longer than the three double-header program over the week-end. In that time, his Bees not only took four of six, including a split in yesterday's finale, but climbed out of the loop cellar. The Bees, who show an edge over only the Phillies in the season series with the other clubs, belted Bucky Walters 5-3 in the opener yesterday for Bucky's third straight defeat, and forced the Reds to go all out to take the nightcap 12-9.

Since the Phillies lost two to the fast-moving Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-1 and 6-4, the Bees'

Training Measure Approved
Opponents of conscription talked of trying to amend the National Guard bill to provide a system of voluntary one-year enlistments in the army. This, they contended, would be an effective substitute for compulsory training.

Basically, though, few objections were voiced in advance to empowering the president to order out the guard and the officers' reserve corps for a year's intensive drill. Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, predicted that the measure would be approved without material change.

Senator Burke, (D-Nebr.), co-author of the conscription bill, said he was confident, with administration support evident, that it would pass the Senate with no more than 20 opposing votes.

"Show Me" State Brings To Close Hot Campaign
(From Page One)
Officers and seven congressional seats tomorrow in a primary election for which there has not been a major rally by a candidate for state office.

Party leaders predict the combined vote of the Democrats and Republicans will not total more than 350,000 of the 850,000 potential voters.

Gov. Payne H. Ratner is opposed for renomination on the Republican ticket by Jay A. Welch, Hadam banker, and Clarence D. Lank, Wichita manufacturer. Only once in recent decades has an incumbent governor—Democrat or Republican—failed of renomination for a second time.

W. H. Burke, of Little River, former member of the state board of administration, and S. L. Mathews, Kansas City attorney, seek the Democratic nomination.

The Yangtze is the world's second largest river, having a length of 3400 miles; the Amazon river is approximately the same length.

Versions Of Raid Conflict

mania would return southern Dobruja to Bulgaria, ending a 27-year dispute.

Fourteen British planes were shot down in Africa yesterday, the Italian High Command reported, while Italian fliers staged an "effective" raid on Mersa Matruh, Egypt.

Apparently answering an Italian report of 10 British planes shot down in one big air battle, a Royal Air Force communiqué said four British planes, engaged 50 enemy craft over Libya, bagged two and lost only one. A third Italian plane, it said, was brought down by the Italians' own anti-aircraft fire.

Countering other Italian claims, the British air force command at Cairo said also that the RAF beat off Italian air raiders attempting to reach Mersa Matruh. On the other hand, it said British bombs had hit an Italian naval vessel, had fallen among a squadron of Italian submarines at Massara, Eritrea, and had hit a fuel dump there.

Similarly, the German High Command claimed that British anti-aircraft positions, oil reserves and shipyards were hit and a merchant ship was sunk in St. George's channel in air raids last night and early today.

It acknowledged only that British planes raiding western Germany had killed one civilian and caused "slight damage to houses."

But the British, describing far-flung RAF attacks on Germany and the Nazi-held coast of the English channel, declared that the German fighters had been shot down in the attacks and admitted only that one British plane was missing. Damage from the Nazi raids on isolated midlands and eastern England districts was negligible, a British communiqué said, and casualties few.

Highest tides of the month in the English channel began today and will continue through Friday, accompanied by forecasts of a calm sea and fogs on the English channel—all favorable factors for a would-be invader.

British airmen, reported that over the weekend they machine-gunned troops at Abbeville, in Nazi-occupied French territory, and bombed truck convoys, an armored train and barges in Belgium.

The British Air Ministry reported German defenses against planes were weaker and less accurate, so that the RAF penetrated deep into the industrial heart of Germany as well as bombing naval structures at Kiel and synthetic oil plants elsewhere.

Italy acknowledged loss of another submarine, but did not tell how or when. The announcement was coupled with a report of widespread and crippling raids on British positions in Africa. British forces reported from Cairo that they had in turn hit three Italian ships in three air raids on Derna, Italian Libya.

British-Japanese friction continued over the arrest of each other's citizens. It was disclosed that Britain intended to deport two Japanese arrested in London almost two weeks before the Japanese seized 15 Britons in Japan. Nine of the British now have been released.

Arrests in Hongkong, Singapore and Rangoon increased to nine the number of Japanese taken into custody by the British. A government statement in the House of Commons on the British-Japanese situation was expected tomorrow.

The Japanese laid their detention of Britons to investigation of an "espionage network" in Japan, while unofficial British sources said the Japanese were held for reasons of "national security."

could find no evidence of anyone preceding him when he was there in April, 1909, was accepted as the discoverer.

Cook sank into comparative obscurity after his losing fight with Peary until 1922 when he was convicted of mail fraud and sentenced to 14 years in prison.

Broken in health, he was paroled in 1930.

Then, as he lay apparently on his death bed last May, President Roosevelt granted him a full pardon and as Cook emerged from a coma which had claimed him for days, he uttered only a feeble "thanks—happy."

Dr. Cook, alone—alone as he had often been during his Arctic journeys.

Hospital attendants making their routine morning rounds had been in his room a few minutes before his passing and his condition seemed unchanged.

FLYING BOAT RESUMES TRANS-OCEAN SERVICE
New York, Aug. 5.—(P)—The camouflaged British flying boat Clara has resumed transatlantic service suspended since last October.

It arrived yesterday after an uneventful flight from England carrying official passengers and mail.

Aboard was Col. William J. Donovan, famed World War commander of the Fighting 688th, who told reporters he was on official business for the Secretary of the Navy and would go to Washington immediately.

patches of tents through the surrounding countryside over the week-end and made other necessary preparations to accommodate the 14,000 troops from the Keystone State who will join in the first army's two weeks of training.

Headquarters were established two and one-half miles north of Lisbon for Gen. Edward Martin, Pennsylvania adjutant general and commanding officer of the 28th Division. Standing on a knoll, it overlooks most of the terrain on which the division will be encamped.

With the headquarters as a hub, spoke lines of tents, regimental and brigade encampments extend south and west for two or three miles in a gigantic semi-circle.

Officers estimated between 8,000 and 9,000 Pennsylvania Guardsmen will be stationed in this area. Another 2,000 or 3,000 will locate near Canton, 13 miles south, and the remainder of the 14,000 at scattered points.

A training area extending from the 28th Division headquarters a mile north to the St. Lawrence river is available for such exercises. Fifteen Pennsylvania outfits reached here Friday and Saturday and three yesterday.

(From Page One)
Extra funds to pay for extraordinary training of the National Guard and for conscription would be required if congress approves those military measures. They probably would put the total over the $20,000,000,000 mark.

The revenue ledger of the government also is showing gains, although a huge deficit is taken for granted. Taxes already enacted, including the new defense levies, are expected to bring in this fiscal year (ending June 30, 1941) about $6,387,000,000.

To this may be added a substantial sum from the proposed excess profits tax, now being framed by the house ways and means committee. Tied of this levy has been estimated at from $500,000,000 to $750,000,000 a year.

Not even the budget bureau is able yet to guess what the deficit will be for this fiscal year. The apparent deficit is more than $13,000,000,000, but the actual one may be only about a fourth as much.

HITLER IS HOLDING MANY CONFERENCES
Berlin, Aug. 5.—(P via Radio)—Adolf Hitler returned to Berlin Sunday afternoon at the same time Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop returned, the German radio said today, and numerous conferences took place today at Hitler's chancellery.

Last week Hitler was at his retreat in the Bavarian Alps near Berchtesgaden.

Hitler conferred today with von Ribbentrop, Reichs Marshal Hermann Goering and Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch, the radio said.

MRS. COX QUITE ILL
London, Aug. 5.—(P)—Mrs. Melville James Cox, widow of the Reuters (British news agency) correspondent who plunged to his death from a window of Tokyo police headquarters last Monday while under questioning in an espionage inquiry, is seriously ill, according to a Reuters dispatch today from the Japanese capital. The dispatch said Mrs. Cox suffered a complete collapse because of shock.

Training Measure Approved

Opponents of conscription talked of trying to amend the National Guard bill to provide a system of voluntary one-year enlistments in the army. This, they contended, would be an effective substitute for compulsory training.

Basically, though, few objections were voiced in advance to empowering the president to order out the guard and the officers' reserve corps for a year's intensive drill. Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, predicted that the measure would be approved without material change.

Senator Burke (D-Nebr.), co-author of the conscription bill, said he was confident with administrative support evident, that it would pass the Senate with no more than 20 opposing votes.

Officers and seven congressional seats tomorrow in a primary election for which there has not been a major rally by a candidate for state office.

Party leaders predict the combined vote of the Democrats and Republicans will not total more than 350,000 of the 850,000 potential voters.

Gov. Payne H. Ratner is opposed for renomination on the Republican ticket by Jay A. Welch, Hadam banker, and Clarence D. Lank, Wichita manufacturer. Only once in recent decades has an incumbent governor—Democrat or Republican—failed of renomination for a second term.

W. H. Burke, of Little River, former member of the state board of administration, and S. L. Mathews, Kansas City attorney, seek the Democratic nomination.

mania would return southern Dobruja to Bulgaria, ending a 27-year dispute.

Fourteen British planes were shot down in Africa yesterday, the Italian High Command reported, while Italian fliers staged an "effective" raid on Mersa Matruh, Egypt.

Apparently answering an Italian report of 10 British planes shot down in one big air battle, a Royal Air Force communique said four British planes, engaged 50 enemy craft over Libya, bagged two and lost only one. A third Italian plane, it said, was brought down by the Italians' own anti-aircraft fire.

Countering other Italian claims, the British air force command at Cairo said also that the RAF beat off Italian air raiders attempting to reach Mersa Matruh. On the other hand, it said British bombs had hit an Italian naval vessel, had fallen among a squadron of Italian submarines at Massaua, Eritrea, and had hit a fuel dump there.

Similarly, the German High Command claimed that British anti-aircraft positions, oil reserves and shipyards were hit and a merchant ship was sunk in St. George's channel in air raids last night and early today.

It acknowledged only that British planes raiding western Germany had killed one civilian and caused "slight damage to houses."

But the British, describing far-flung RAF attacks on Germany and the Nazi-held coast of the English channel, declared that three German fighters had been shot down in the attacks and admitted only that one British plane was missing. Damage from the Nazi raids on isolated midlands and eastern England districts was negligible, a British communique said, and casualties few.

Highest tides of the month in the English channel began today and will continue through Friday, accompanied by forecasts of a calm sea and fogs on the English channel—all favorable factors for a would-be invader.

British airmen, reported that over the weekend they machine-gunned troops at Abbeville, in Nazi-occupied French territory, and bombed truck convoys, an armored train and barges in Belgium.

The British Air Ministry reported German defenses against planes were weaker and less accurate, so that the RAF penetrated deep into the industrial heart of Germany as well as bombing naval structures at Kiel and synthetic oil plants elsewhere.

Italy acknowledged loss of another submarine, but did not tell how or when. The announcement was coupled with a report of widespread and crippling raids on British positions in Africa. British forces reported from Cairo that they had in turn hit three Italian ships in three air raids on Derna, Italian Libya.

British-Japanese friction continued over the arrest of each other's citizens. It was disclosed that Britain intended to deport two Japanese arrested in London almost two weeks before the Japanese seized 15 Britons in Japan. Nine of the British now have been released.

Arrests in Hongkong, Singapore and Rangoon increased to nine the number of Japanese taken into custody by the British. A government statement in the House of Commons on the British-Japanese situation was expected tomorrow.

The Japanese laid their detention of Britons to investigation of an "espionage network" in Japan, while unofficial British sources said the Japanese were held for reasons of "national security."

could find no evidence of anyone preceding him when he was there in April, 1909, was accepted as the discoverer.

Cook sank into comparative obscurity after his losing fight with Peary until 1922 when he was convicted of mail fraud and sentenced to 14 years in prison.

Broken in health, he was paroled in 1930.

Then, as he lay apparently on his death bed last May, President Roosevelt granted him a full pardon and as Cook emerged from a coma which had claimed him for days, he uttered only a feeble "thanks—happy."

Dr. Cook died alone—alone as he had so often been during his Arctic journeys.

Hospital attendants making their routine morning rounds had been in his room a few minutes before his passing and his condition seemed unchanged.

FLYING BOAT RESUMES TRANS-OCEAN SERVICE

New York, Aug. 5.—(P)—The camouflaged British flying boat Clara has resumed transatlantic service suspended since last October.

It arrived yesterday after an uneventful flight from England carrying official passengers and mail.

Aboard was Col. William J. Donovan, famed World War commander of the Fighting 68th, who told reporters he was on official business for the Secretary of the Navy and would go to Washington immediately.

(From Page One) patches of tents through the surrounding countryside over the week-end and made other necessary preparations to accommodate the 14,000 troops from the Keystone State who will join in the first army's two weeks of training.

Headquarters were established two and one-half miles north of Lisbon for Gen. Edward Martin, Pennsylvania adjutant general and commanding officer of the 28th Division. Standing on a knoll, it overlooks most of the terrain on which the division will be encamped.

With the headquarters as a hub, spoke lines of tents, regimental and brigade encampments extend south and west for two or three miles in a gigantic semi-circle.

Officers estimated between 8,000 and 9,000 Pennsylvania Guardsmen will be stationed in this area. Another 2,000 or 3,000 will locate near Canton, 13 miles south, and the remainder of the 14,000 at scattered points.

A training area extending from the 28th Division headquarters a mile north to the St. Lawrence river is available for such exercises. Fifteen Pennsylvania outfits reached here Friday and Saturday and three yesterday.

Spending Total Is Pushed Above $20,000,000

Extra funds to pay for extraordinary training of the National Guard and for conscription would be required if congress approves those military measures. They probably would put the total over the $20,000,000 mark.

The revenue ledger of the government also is showing gains, although a huge deficit is taken for granted. Taxes already enacted, including the new defense levies, are expected to bring in this fiscal year (ending June 30, 1941) about $6,367,600,000.

To this may be added a substantial sum from the proposed excess profits tax, now being framed by the house ways and means committee. Yield of this levy has been estimated at from $500,000,000 to $750,000,000 a year.

Not even the budget bureau is able yet to guess what the deficit will be for this fiscal year. The apparent deficit is more than $13,000,000,000, but the actual one may be only about a fourth as much.

HITLER IS HOLDING MANY CONFERENCES

Berlin, Aug. 5.—(P via Radio)—Adolf Hitler returned to Berlin Sunday afternoon at the same time Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop returned, the German radio said today, and numerous conferences took place today at Hitler's chancellery.

Hitler conferred today with Von Ribbentrop, Reichs Marshal Herman Goerring and Field Marshal Walther Von Brauchitsch, the radio said.

Casual Slaughters

By VIRGINIA HANSON

YESTERDAY: Ray drives her back to jail. She learns from Jeff that Sandra may have married him thinking his worthless property had silver on it. Back to her room Ray looks for the shorthand notebook. It has vanished again.

Chapter 39

What Safe Place?

I SHUFFLED through the papers on top of the table. I opened the table drawer. I even delved into the wastebasket. But it wasn't there; it wasn't anywhere in the two rooms or in the small bathroom.

I gave up the search, finally. Jeff must have taken it after all. I felt a flash of resentment. He hadn't trusted me, even though I knew what the notebook might contain.

But did I? Too late I realized that there might have been more that Sandra could have told. Information more damaging than the bit of scandal about Mimi and Jeff.

Jeff hadn't told me anything he was afraid Sandra had put in that notebook. I'd been a fool to believe him, to let it get out of my hands. What had he done with it—hidden it, destroyed it? There had been plenty of time to do either on his way to the garage. I felt sure he no longer had it when I delivered him at the hospital. It was too large to be concealed in a pocket, and he had not been carrying anything.

Was there any use trying to find it? Was there anyone to whom I could appeal for help? Gerald? I felt again that sinking of my heart, the unwilling, frightening realization that Gerald was an impostor.

Felicia? The chaplain? But I would have to tell them that Jeff had been here, and I was reluctant to do that. Perhaps he had not destroyed the notebook; he might have hidden it in the car. The garage was locked and the key in my bag, but I shrank from going out there alone in the dark. If the notebook was there, it was safe until morning. Morning, I told myself, would be time enough.

I got my wardrobe suitcase from the closet and packed my things, putting my papers all together in a compartment which served very well for the purpose. The rejected manuscript, still unopened, went in with them. Then I emptied the closet and the drawers of the wardrobe chest, took a look around the bathroom and sitting room for forgotten articles, closed my typewriter in its traveling case and prepared to leave. At the door, however, I turned back on an unexplained impulse and dragged the wardrobe suitcase as far as the sitting room. But it was too heavy for me so I abandoned it there, locked both the suitcase and the typewriter and put the keys in my bag. Then I turned out the lights, went out and shut the door. There was a light in Felicia's sitting room, but she was in bed, snoring a little. Remembering not to be too quiet, I prepared for bed, but she did not stir. And when, presently, I turned off the light and stretched out on the vacant bed her soft little snore was still at work.

Normally that snore would not have bothered me, but tonight I was overwrought. The instant I relaxed and was about to drift into sleep, untroubled thoughts would swarm around me, like mosquitoes. There were mosquitoes, too, in the flesh—their own and mine. And there was that softly persistent snore that gradually became maddening.

Elemental Fear

EVENTUALLY I resigned myself to staying awake. I doubled my pillow against the head of the bed and sat up, staring at the gray shape of a window, wishing it would begin to grow lighter, wishing I had a cigarette but afraid to get one for fear the smell of the smoke would disturb Felicia. I thought once of going into the sitting room, closing the door between; but that reminded me too vividly of the night before—of Sandra's meeting death, alone, in my sitting room.

I felt the roots of my hair tingle with elemental fear. For the first time I thought of that snore as a comforting reminder that I was not alone.

Then I began to hear little things, small sounds such as are always audible in a sleeping house, but which tonight my disordered imagination magnified into evidence that evil was creeping on stealthily feet through the corridors of the building.

Over the heavy thudding of my heart I heard boards creak under the slow weight of those feet, heard the little shirrings of secret curtains, the whisper of pages as if someone were leafing rapidly through a magazine. My thoughts went back with mounting horror to the picture of Sandra, sitting so quietly while I worked, turning the pages of a magazine until I was ready to scream at the relentless regularity of the repeated sound. My heart hammering painfully, I pictured her sitting there, now, turning the pages, waiting—waiting for what? What had she left undone?

Then, so distinct that I knew I had not imagined it, loud in the quiet night, I heard the click of a door latch.

Almost relieved at the thought of a tangible menace, I crept out of bed and tiptoed to the open door of the sitting room, where I stopped for an instant to listen. There was no further sound. Presently, emboldened by the continued quiet, I reached a hand into the room and switched on the light.

There was no one there. I stood in the doorway for a moment, getting my nerve back and feeling foolish. Behind me Felicia still slept. Well, at least I could have a cigarette.

I crossed over and turned the key in the corridor door, reflecting that it was a little late for the precaution, found my pocketbook, which contained the remains of a pack of cigarettes, and lit up. Then I pushed the door to the bedroom nearly shut, selected a magazine from a stack on the table, and settled down to read.

But not for long. I could not keep my mind on the words. Thoughts of my own kept nagging me—thoughts of Mimi and Colonel Bennett, of Julia and Jeff and Sandra, who had "written down what she knew about several people and put it in a safe place." Not just what she knew about Mimi and Jeff. Several people.

Reducing it to simple terms, Sandra was a blackmailer. She had blackmailed Jeff into marrying her. She had tried to blackmail him into giving her the Ozark property, which she believed to be valuable. A logical question formed in my mind. Had she been blackmailing someone else?

The answer brought me to my feet. It was so obvious that I wondered why I had not seen it before. She had been blackmailing the murderer!

Unbearable Excitement

IT WASN'T only to Jeff that she had thrown the taunt that it would do no good to kill her. She had recorded her knowledge and put it "in a safe place." And she thought that made her safe, too.

What safe place? It seemed to me suddenly that Sandra was in the room with me, trying to tell me something. I began to shake with a chill that was not so much fright as the unbearable excitement of knowing that I was on the verge of a revelation. This was something that concerned me. I was as sure of it as if I had seen her standing there, pointing at me. When there was no one else she had turned to me, even though she knew I was Julia's friend. Wasn't it plausible, then, that surrounded by strangers, she had caught her secret with me? She had not trusted me with it—she could not do that—but she could leave me some clue to it. If I had the wit to recognize the clue—

I settled myself with another cigarette, let the magazine slip to the floor, and went over everything I could remember concerning Sandra since she had come to my room Sunday night.

There was the shorthand notebook, of course. That leaped to the attention. But in no sense could it be considered a safe place. Many people can read shorthand. Besides, it was too obvious. If it had been that important she would never have left it lying about.

A safe-deposit box? Not here. I was fairly sure of that. And the record she had made must be a recent one. There was no bank nearer than the next town, and to the best of my belief she had not been off the post since Sunday except for the one time she had gone with me to the post office, and there she had not been out of my sight.

The post office. She had mailed two letters.

"To friends who knew Ivan," she had said. I remembered those letters. Thin, one-page affairs. Still—they might have included the few words necessary to incriminate someone.

And then I thought of the manuscript. Little things which had no meaning for me at the time they happened recurred to me now in a new light. Sandra asking to use my typewriter and staying alone in my room all that afternoon. Her determination that the manuscript should be finished and sent off that very day. The questions she had asked concerning its destination and the time of its probable return if rejected. And the strange intensity with which she had watched me seal and stamp the envelope and hand it through the window to the postmaster.

What had the editor said? With feverish fingers I extracted the letter once more from my bag and read it with new comprehension. "Sounds like two stories mixed up."

My housecoat was lying in the jumble of things in my overnight case. I crushed the letter back into my pocketbook, switched up the robe and put it on. That manuscript, locked in my wardrobe case in the next room, would bear investigating.

A familiar chill gripped me as I turned the key to unlock the door to the corridor, but I gave myself no time to heed it. I clicked off the light in the sitting room, listened for a moment to Felicia's heavy snoring and gently, quietly turned the doorknob.

BAND CONCERT TUESDAY NIGHT AT LACY SCHOOL

What promises to be the most largely attended of the summer series of concerts by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Band will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Lacy school, Pennsylvania avenue East near Park street.

The departure from the regular Wednesday night date for these concerts is made because it would interfere with the regular services of the three Glade churches, who are sponsoring an ice cream social in connection with the concert, for the benefit of the Red Cross War Relief Fund. All of the receipts will go to the Red Cross, none being retained by the band or the three churches.

A feature of the concert will be a soloist, Miss Anne Krantz, soprano, of Warren, Miss Krantz is a graduate of Warren High school in the Class of 1939, and a student at Grove City College. Her solo will be accompanied by the band.

TWO-PIECE EFFECT SPORTS MODE

PATTERN 4510

by ANNE ADAMS

"American girl" seems to be written all over this arresting new shirtwaister, Pattern 4510. It fairly sparkles with the originality and youthful spirits that typify an Anne Adams style. There's clever deception and a brand new fashion note in the button-opening effect that trims the front skirt. Together with the smooth waistband, it gives a two-piece look to the style. There's striking novelty too in deep, attractive yokes that form two points in front and a curve at the buttoned back. The collar "copycats" the shape of the yokes, front and back. For a stunning effect, you might have the collar, yokes and skirt of checked contrast.

Pattern 4510 is available in misses sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16 takes 2 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric and 1 yard contrast.

Circus Entertains Large Crowd of Delighted Patrons Here Today

The Merry Toot Of The Wonder Flute—Yep, It's Circus Day

The merry toot of the "Wonder Flute," a familiar sound to Warren people, was heard in the business section today and was proof enough that it's "Circus Day."

The investor, manufacturer, sole distributor and victor of the "Wonder Flute," Sam Cook, who has accompanied many circuses to this city, was on the job early in the day and will doubtless leave the echo of the instrument in Warren for many days, skillfully and unskillfully manipulated by the community's small fry.

Cook has been distributing his "Wonder Flute" on Circus Day throughout the country for many years, and made several Victor recordings as well as broadcasting over Station WJZ.

HIGH CONSUMPTION

Each year, American blast furnaces consume enough raw materials in the form of ore, coke, limestone, etc., to cover a city square block one and one-third miles deep. Weight of this pile would be 114,000,000 tons.

So valuable is chinchilla fur that skins, though very small, bring more than $125 each.

The combined Clyde Beatty-Hamid-Morton Circus, showing under the sponsorship of the local Shrine Club for the benefit of the Children's Hospital, gave its initial performance this afternoon to a delighted and happy bunch of youngsters and oldsters alike.

Clyde Beatty heads the bill with the largest mixed group of jungle lions and tigers ever assembled together and all the time he is in the cage with these snarling, ferocious beasts he seems to be in immediate danger of being converted into the animals' next meal. There are many tense moments, with a hush over the audience and many are the spine-tingling thrills that this quiet like man gives his patrons while putting these jungle cats through their paces.

Inasmuch Clyde Beatty's act is in a class by itself, the rest of the program is in no way lacking in well worthwhile entertainment. "Buddy," an exceptionally well trained seal, comes in for a goodly amount of applause and his trainer, Walter Jenner, is to be commended for the high degree of intelligence displayed by his pupil.

Oriental tumblers, high wire artists, dancing horses ridden by young ladies that are easy on the eyes, elephants galore are just a few of the many acts that unfold in a two-hour panorama.

Gene Evans, a dainty miss, demonstrates that the feminine sex is by no means the weaker sex by an exhibition of endurance on the revolving trapeze. Gene Allen, a comely young lady who herds the mighty pachyderms through their many pleasing stunts, displays grace and a world of personality.

Then comes Lee Powell, the original Lone Ranger of the movies and his company of authentic rodeo champions. Powell is a young man of wonderful physique and pleasing personality and one can readily understand why the movie moguls picked him to play that hard riding role of the Lone Ranger.

Baron Novak, the smallest man on earth presents a fast tap routine while spinning a rope simultaneously. This little refugee from Prague stands but 23 inches high, weighs 17 pounds, yet has already passed his nineteenth birthday.

All in all, one leaves the Shrine circus with the feeling that they have had the biggest dish of entertainment for their money that ever has been offered. "It's a swell show is the general acclaim."

The night performance starts at 8:00 p. m., after which the show trains for Oil City.

More than 1,500,000,000 pounds of tobacco are produced annually in the United States.

There are about two birds to the acre in the United States.

Members of DeMolay Are Invited to Picnic

Members of Warren Chapter, Order of DeMolay, and their ladies have received an invitation from Trinity Chapter, of Bradford, to join in its summer picnic, to be held next Sunday, August 11, at Wildcat Park at Ludlow.

Kane and St. Mary's chapters are also to be represented at the gathering, and Trinity Chapter has issued a challenge to the other units for a mullball game.

The program for the day will include all the facilities of the park, plus a dinner. A nominal fee of 25 cents will be asked per person to cover expenses and those wishing to make reservations should do so not later than Wednesday of this week, by calling Gordon Gerould, 1352-J, or Wilson Farnsworth, 767-W.

INADEQUATE OUTPUT

Although the United States has produced about 10 per cent of the world's tungsten in recent years, it consumes 20 per cent of the world's output. Most of this difference is secured from China and British Malaya.

Brown sugar will not become lumpy if kept in a cool place and covered with a damp cloth.

Laundry Employees And Families Have Picnic On Steamboat

Employees of the Commonwealth Laundry and their families, numbering 64, had a very enjoyable annual picnic on Lake Chautauqua Saturday, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Cole, who kindly sponsored a very nice trip on their steamboat, Chadakoin.

The group held a picnic dinner at Midway Park, after which the remaining time was spent with swimming and other diversions available at the park.

Returning in the evening to Celoron Park, all participated in another picnic and the early evening hours were enjoyed at this park.

Taking a tip from the Nazi primer on invasion, the U. S. Army is experimenting with its first unit of parachute troops. At Hightstown, N. J., a volunteer platoon of 48 men and 2 officers from the U. S. Infantry School at Fort Benning, Ga., is learning "chuting technique on two jumping towers — one for guided 'chutes, one for free 'chutes. This striking photo shows a soldier in free parachute, beginning his descent after parachute was released from top of 125-foot tower. If experiment works out, all U. S. infantrymen may take similar courses.

Casual Slaughters

By VIRGINIA HANSON

YESTERDAY: Kay drives Jeff back to jail. She learns from Jeff that Sandra may have married him thinking his worthless property had silver on it. Back in her room Kay looks for the shorthand notebook. It has vanished again.

Chapter 39 What Safe Place?

I SHUFFLED through the papers on top of the table. I opened the table drawer. I even delved into the wastebasket. But it wasn't there; it wasn't anywhere in the two rooms or in the small bathroom.

I gave up the search, finally. Jeff must have taken it after all. I felt a flash of resentment. He hadn't trusted me, even though I knew what the notebook might contain.

But did I? Too late I realized that there might have been more to that Sandra could have told, information more damaging than the bit of scandal about Mimi and Jeff.

Jeff needn't have told me anything he was afraid Sandra had put in that notebook!

I'd been a fool to believe him, to let it get out of my hands. What had he done with it—hidden it, destroyed it? There had been plenty of time to do either on his way to the garage. I felt sure he no longer had it when I delivered him at the hospital. It was too large to be concealed in a pocket, and he had not been carrying anything.

Was there any use trying to find it? Was there anyone to whom I could appeal for help? Gerald? I felt again that sinking of my heart, the unwilling, frightening realization that Gerald was an imposter.

Felicia? The chaplain? But I would have to tell him that Jeff had been here, and I was reluctant to do that. Perhaps he had not destroyed the notebook; he might have hidden it in the car. The garage was locked and the key in my bag, but I shrank from going out there alone in the dark. If the notebook was there, it was safe until morning. Morning, I told myself, would be time enough.

I got my wardrobe suitcase from the closet and packed my things, putting my papers all together in a compartment which served very well for the purpose. The rejected manuscript, still unopened, went in with them. Then I emptied the closet and the drawers of the mahogany chest, took a look around the bathroom and sitting room for forgotten articles, closed my typewriter in its traveling case and prepared to leave. At the door, however, I turned back on an unexplained impulse and dragged the wardrobe suitcase as far as the sitting room. But it was too heavy for me, so I abandoned it there, locked both the suitcase and the typewriter and put the keys in my bag. Then I turned out the lights, went out and shut the door.

There was a light in Felicia's sitting room, but she was in bed, snoring a little. Remembering not to be too quiet, I prepared for bed, but she did not stir. And when, presently, I turned off the light and stretched out on the vacant bed her soft little snore was still at work.

Normally I at snore would not have bothered me, but tonight I was overwrought. The instant I relaxed and was about to drift into sleep, unwelcome thoughts would swarm around me like mosquitoes. There were mosquitoes, too, in the flesh—their own and mine. And there was that softly persistent snore that gradually became maddening.

Elemental Fear

EVENTUALLY I resigned myself to staying awake. I doubled my pillow against the head of the bed and sat up, staring at the gray shape of a window, wishing it would begin to grow lighter, wishing I had a cigarette but afraid to get one for fear the smell of the smoke would disturb Felicia. I thought once of going into the sitting room, closing the door between, but that reminded me too vividly of the night before—of Sandra meeting death, alone, in my sitting room.

I felt the roots of my hair tingle with elemental fear. For the first time I thought of that snore as a comforting reminder that I was not alone.

Then I began to hear little things, small sounds such as are always audible in a sleeping house, but which tonight my disordered imagination magnified into evidence that evil was creeping on stealthy feet through the corridors of the building.

Over the heavy thudding of my heart I heard boards creak under the slow weight of those feet, heard the little stirrings of secret errands, the whisper of pages as if someone were leafing rapidly through a magazine. My thoughts went back with mounting horror to the picture of Sandra, sitting dutifully quiet while I worked, turning the pages of a magazine until I was ready to scream at the relentless regularity of the repeated sound. My heart hammering painfully, I pictured her sitting there now, turning the pages, waiting—waiting for what? What had she left undone?

Then, so distinct that I knew I had not imagined it, loud in the quiet night, I heard the click of a door latch.

That sound woke me to a healthier fear. The click of the corridor door!

Almost relieved at the thought of a tangible menace, I crept out of bed and tiptoed to the open door of the sitting room, where I stopped for an instant to listen. There was no further sound. Presently, emboldened by the continued quiet, I reached a hand into the room and switched on the light.

There was no one there. I stood in the doorway for a moment, getting my nerve back and feeling foolish. Behind me Felicia still slept. Well, at least I could have a cigarette.

I crossed over and turned the key in the corridor door, reflecting that it was a little late for the precaution, found my pocketbook, which contained the remains of a pack of cigarettes, and lit up. Then I pushed the door to the bedroom nearly shut, selected a magazine from a stack on the table, and settled down to read.

But not for long. I could not keep my mind on the words. Thoughts of my own kept nagging me—thoughts of Mimi and Colonel Pennant, of Julia and Jeff and Sandra. Sandra, who had "written down what she knew about several people and put it in a safe place." Not just what she knew about Mimi and Jeff. Several people.

Reducing it to simple terms, Sandra was a blackmailer. She had blackmailed Jeff into marrying her. She had tried to blackmail him into giving her the Ozark property, which she believed to be valuable. A logical question formed in my mind. Had she been blackmailing someone else?

The answer brought me to my feet. It was so obvious that I wondered why I had not seen it before.

She had been blackmailing the murderer!

Unbearable Excitement

IT WASN'T only to Jeff that she had thrown the taunt that it would do no good to kill her. She had recorded her knowledge and put it "in a safe place." And she had thought that made her safe, too.

What safe place?

It seemed to me suddenly that Sandra was in the room with me, trying to tell me something. I began to shake with a chill that was not so much fright as the unbearable excitement of knowing that I was on the verge of a revelation. This was something that concerned me. I was as sure of it as if I had seen her standing there, pointing at me. When there was no one else she had turned to me, even though she knew I was Julia's friend. Wasn't it plausible, then, that, surrounded by strangers, she had cached her secret with me? She had not trusted me with it—she could not do that—but she could leave me some clue to it. If I had the wit to recognize the clue.

I settled myself with another cigarette, let the magazine slip to the floor, and went over everything I could remember concerning Sandra since she had come to my room Sunday night.

There was the shorthand notebook, of course. That leaped to the attention. But in no sense could it be considered a safe place. Many people can read shorthand. Besides, it was too obvious. If it had been that important she would never have left it lying about.

A safe-deposit box?

Not here, I was fairly sure of that. And the record she had made must be a recent one. There was no bank nearer than the next town, and to the best of my belief she had not been off the post since Sunday except for the one time she had gone with me to the post office, and then she had not been out of my sight.

The post office. She had mailed two letters.

"To friends who knew Ivan," she had said.

I remembered those letters. Thin, one-page affairs. Still—they might have included the few words necessary to incriminate someone.

And then I thought of the manuscript. Little things which had no meaning for me at the time they happened recurred to me now in a new light. Sandra asking to use my typewriter and staying alone in my room all that afternoon. Her determination that the manuscript should be finished and sent off that very day. The questions she had asked concerning its destination and the time of its probable return if rejected. And the strange intentness with which she had watched me seal and stamp the envelope and hand it through the window to the postmaster.

What had the editor said?

With feverish fingers I extracted the letter once more from my bag and read it with new comprehension.

"Sounds like two stories mixed up."

My housecoat was lying in the jumble of things in my overnight case. I crushed the letter back into my pocketbook, snatched up the robe and put it on. That manuscript locked in my wardrobe case in the next room, would bear investigating.

A familiar chill gripped me as I turned the key to unlock the door to the corridor, but I gave myself no time to heed it. I clicked off the light in the sitting room, listened for a moment to Felicia's hardy snore and gently, quietly turned the doorknob.

BAND CONCERT TUESDAY NIGHT AT LACY SCHOOL

What promises to be the most largely attended of the summer series of concerts by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Band will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Lacy school, Pennsylvania avenue East near Park street.

The departure from the regular Wednesday night date for these concerts is made because it would interfere with the regular services of the three Glade churches, who are sponsoring an ice cream social in connection with the concert, for the benefit of the Red Cross War Relief Fund. All of the receipts will go to the Red Cross, none being retained by the band or the three churches.

A feature of the concert will be a soloist, Miss Anne Krantz, soprano, of Warren, Miss Krantz is a graduate of Warren High school in the Class of 1939, and a student at Grove City College. Her solo will be accompanied by the band.

Make This Model At Home

TWO-PIECE EFFECT SPORTS MODE

PATTERN 4510

by ANNE ADAMS

"American girl" seems to be written all over this arresting new shirtwaister, Pattern 4510. It fairly sparkles with the originality and youthful spirits that typify an Anne Adams style. There's clever deception and a brand new fashion note in the button-opening effect that trims the front skirt. Together with the smooth waistband, it gives a two-piece look to the style. There's striking novelty too, in deep, attractive yokes that form two points in front and a curve at the buttoned back. The collar "copycats" the shape of the yokes, front and back. For a stunning effect, you might have the collar, yokes and skirt of checked contrast.

Pattern 4510 is available in misses' sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16 takes 2 1/4 yards 35 inch fabric and 1 yard contrast.

Circus Entertains Large Crowd of Delighted Patrons Here Today

The Merry Toot Of The Wonder Flute— Yep, It's Circus Day

The merry toot of the "Wonder Flute", a familiar sound to Warren people, was heard in the business section today and was proof enough that it's "Circus Day."

The inventor, manufacturer, sole distributor and virtuoso of the "Wonder Flute", Sam Cook, who has accompanied many circuses to this city, was on the job early in the day and will doubtless leave the echo of the instrument in Warren for many days, skillfully and unskillfully manipulated by the community's small fry.

Cook has been distributing his "Wonder Flute" on Circus Day throughout the country for many years, and made several Victor recordings as well as broadcasting over Station WJZ.

HIGH CONSUMPTION
Each year, American blast furnaces consume enough raw materials in the form of ore, coke, limestone, etc., to cover a city square block one and one-third miles deep. Weight of this pile would be 114,000,000 tons.

So valuable is chinchilla fur that skins, though very small, bring more than $125 each.

The combined Clyde Beatty Hamid-Morton Circus, showing under the sponsorship of the local Shrine Club for the benefit of the Cripple Children's Hospital, gave its initial performance this afternoon to a delighted and happy bunch of youngsters and oldsters alike.

Clyde Beatty heads the bill with the largest mixed group of jungle bred lions and tigers ever assembled together and all the time he is in the cage with these snarling, ferocious beasts he seems to be in immediate danger of being converted into the animals' next meal. There are many tense moments, with a hush over the audience and many are the spine tingling thrills that this quiet like man gives his patrons while putting these jungle cats through their paces.

Inasmuch Clyde Beatty's act is in a class by itself, the rest of the program is in no way lacking in well worthwhile entertainment. "Buddy", an exceptionally well trained seal, comes in for a goodly amount of applause and his trainees, Walter Jenner, is to be commended for the high degree of intelligence displayed by his pupil.

Oriental tumblers, high wire artists, dancing horses ridden by young ladies that are easy on the eyes, elephants galore are just a few of the many acts that unfold in a two-hour panorama.

Gene Evans, a dainty miss, demonstrates that the feminine sex is by no means the weaker sex by an exhibition of endurance on a revolving trapeze. Gene Allen, a comely young lady who herds the mighty pachyderms through their many pleasing stunts, displays grace and a world of personality.

Then comes Lee Powell, the original Lone Ranger of the movies and his company of authentic rodeo champions. Powell is a young man of wonderful physique and pleasing personality and one can readily understand why the movie moguls picked him to play that hard riding role of the Lone Ranger.

Baron Novak, the smallest man on earth presents a fast tap routine while spinning a rope simultaneously. This little refugee from Prague stands but 23 inches high, weighs 17 pounds, yet has already passed his nineteenth birthday.

All in all, one leaves the Shrine circus with the feeling that they have had the biggest dish of entertainment for their money that ever has been offered. "It's a swell show is the general acclaim". The night performance starts at 8:00 p. m., after which the show entrains for Oil City.

More than 1,500,000,000 pounds of tobacco are produced annually in the United States.

Members of DeMolay Are Invited to Picnic

Members of Warren Chapter, Order of DeMolay, and their ladies have received an invitation from Trinity Chapter, of Bradford, to join in its summer picnic, to be held next Sunday, August 11, at Wildcat Park at Ludlow.

Kane and St. Marys chapters are also to be represented at the gathering, and Trinity Chapter has issued a challenge to the other units for a mushball game.

The program for the day will include all the facilities of the park, plus a dinner. A nominal fee of 25 cents will be asked per person to cover expenses and those wishing to make reservations should do so not later than Wednesday of this week, by calling Gordon Gerould, 1352-J, or Wilson Farnsworth, 767-W.

INADEQUATE OUTPUT

Although the United States has produced about 10 per cent of the world's tungsten in recent years, it consumes 20 per cent of the world's output. Most of this difference is secured from China and British Malaya.

Laundry Employes And Families Have Picnic On Steamboat

Employees of the Commonwealth Laundry and their families, numbering 64, had a very enjoyable annual picnic on Lake Chautauqua Saturday, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Cole, who kindly sponsored a very nice trip on their steamboat, Chadakoin.

The group held a picnic dinner at Midway Park, after which the remaining time was spent with swimming and other diversions available at the park.

Returning in the evening to Celoron Park, all participated in another picnic and the early evening hours were enjoyed at the park.
